Contract let for sewer and water projects

Contracts for the work on the new sewer and water improvements were awarded at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Monday night.

Bids were opened at the March 27 meeting of the board, and were taken under advisement. A total of 22 bids were submitted on the project.

A & E Contractors of Melrose Park were awarded the contract for Division A of the water improvements, which consists of installing feeder mains, foundation and ring wall for storage tank, booster pumping station and accessories and altitude valve chamber. Their bid was $102,375.05.

CHICAGO Bridge and Iron Co. was low bidder on Division 1-B of the waterworks improvement, which consists of a 1,000,000 gallon covered steel reservoir. Their bid of $46,300 was accepted.

Milaeger Well Drilling Co., Chicago, was awarded the contract for Division C of the improvement, which consists of a new well and pumping equipment. The bid was $47,420.

A & E General Contractors were also awarded the contract for Division A of the sewer works improvement, which consists of a relief sewer along Rockwell st. The bid was $27,383.30.

Northern States Co., Inc., Chicago, received the contract for Division B of the sewage works improvements, which consists of improvements to the present sewage treatment plant. The bid was $592,800.

Due to objections originally made to the sewage treatment improvement the project has been delayed at least 18 months. The original ordinance was passed in 1950.

Annual VFW Easter egg hunt Saturday

The annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 981 and its auxiliary of Arlington Heights, will be held Saturday, at 2 p.m.

All children of pre-school and elementary school age are invited to take part. They are to meet at the South side school and the police will escort the youngsters to the hunting grounds. The hunt will be held regardless of what kind of weather Mother Nature offers.

There will be a cash prize for everyone who is lucky and finds an egg. Some may be more lucky than others and find an egg with a merchant's name on it, which will be good for whatever that merchant has offered.

The Post wishes to thank all merchants who were generous and of their 'own free will donated prizes.

This is one of the many community projects that Post 981 has in store for citizens of Arlington Heights.

Industry brings lowest tax rate in county to Lincolnwood

The lowest tax rate for any municipality in Cook County is that of Lincolnwood. The industries in the area are credited for that fact. Its rate is 1.792.

The highest tax rates in Cook county are for areas in the south and western suburbs. The top rate is 4.182. Northbrook, with 3.786, the highest in north Cook county is fifteenth on the list.

Following Northbrook in the north area are Arlington Heights (3.584), Mt. Prospect (3.540) Palatine (3.448) Park Ridge and Des Plaines follow in order named. Barrington's total rate is only 2.95 and the village of Wheeling 2.68. The village of Bartlett is next to the lowest with 1.94.

There are many villages in the west and south suburbs with rates comparable with Arlington, Mt. Prospect and Palatine.

Mayor orders $50 charge for prairie fires

If somebody calls the fire department to extinguish a prairie fire, the cost will be exactly $50. That is the order issued by Mayor Goedke Wednesday.

Four calls on Tuesday will cost over $200. Employers of men who are members of the fire department are getting as much fed-up on the situation as the firemen themselves.

DRIVERS GET TICKETS FOR LACK OF VEHICLE TAGS

Arlington Heights police officers have made more than 70 arrests since last Friday of people failing to purchase a village vehicle tag, or, if purchased, not displaying it on their windshields.

A fine of $2 is made if the tag is not displayed and a fine of $6 is made if the tag has not been purchased.

Parking for shoppers

(AN EDITORIAL)

The southside shopper parking problem in Arlington Heights is still unsolved. Unless something is done, it will again be only a part of the platform of all village candidates in April 1953, which they will probably sidestep after election.

Can Arlington Heights business interests and the shoppers continue to put up with the present situation?

The village has spent $5,000 to get a parking solution from a firm of engineers. That $5,000 will be wasted money unless it starts a chain reaction that will bring about a start in the establishment of an actual parking area for shoppers.

The park board and the village have kicked in a total of nearly $10,000 for commuter parking and not one cent for shoppers who need the same service.

The business men should be sufficiently interested to agree on a plan and make a direct recommendation to the village board.

The only adequate solution appears to be condemnation of semi-business property for that purpose, as is being accomplished in Des Plaines, where the business men are paying part of the purchase price of property with the balance coming from parking meter fund and a general bond issue.

Parking meters are a source of revenue that has not been tried in Arlington Heights. In an effort to learn how local business men feel on the proposition a telephone poll was made Monday by a reporter.

Business men who have been against meters said that after seeing many employees usurping parking areas on the business streets, they have changed their minds and say, "Let the meters come."

The editor does not think that Arlington Heights can wait for the creation of a parking meter fund to buy those lots. We are about two or three years too late.

Let the condemnation proceedings start at once before the widening of Dunton street and the expenditure of $12,000 of gas tax funds further raises the value of adjoining property.

We refer to the west side of Dunton and the east side of Vail street. Starting at the rear of the brick business blocks facing Campbell street, improvements are 75 years old. Condemnation after widening of Dunton street may be twice as expensive as today.

How much property can be handled and how much adjoining business firms will be willing to kick-in on the deal remains to be seen.

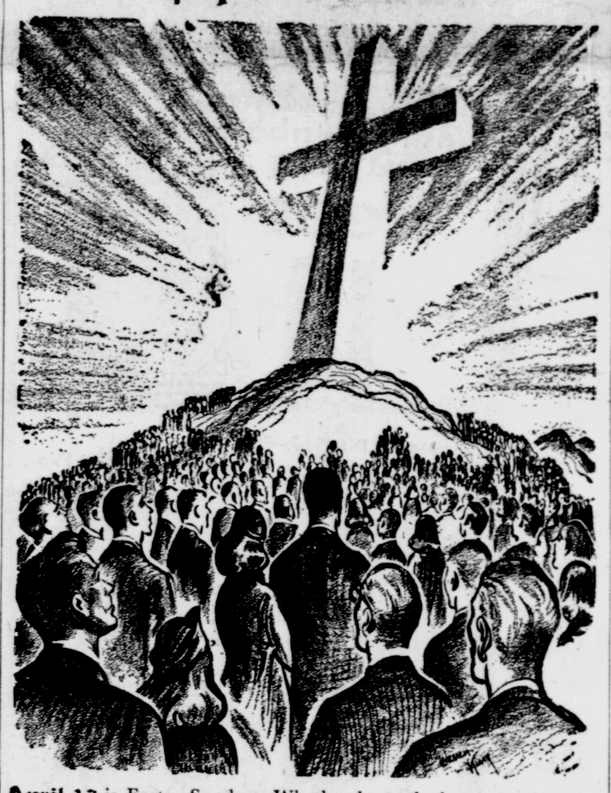

Worthy as this project may appear, its successful culmination will depend upon the willingness of all south side business interests to pay part of the cost. If they are not interested, let us forget once and for all meters and a consolidated business district parking lot.

Real estate taxes on all business property has jumped about 20 per cent. Adequate shopper parking lots will make those extra taxes easy to pay. Without the lots the shoppers will go elsewhere.

The first part of this job is up to the business interests.

How about it, fellows?

Legion-Kiwanis plan home show in July

Farm, home equipment to be shown

Merle Guild American Legion Post 208 and the Kiwanis club of Arlington Heights have joined forces and formed the big top committee to sponsor the Legion-Kiwanis Big Top. The big top is a home and farm equipment show to be held in Recreation park, Arlington Heights, July 1 through July 6, in conjunction with the annual American Legion Fourth of July celebration and carnival.

To house the show a large exposition tent, 80 x 200 feet, has been rented and will be erected adjacent to the carnival grounds in the area used for ice skating during winter months. The tent has a capacity of 90 eight foot booths and attractive, professionally styled exhibit booth equipment has been rented and will be used throughout.

BY LOCATING the big top on the carnival grounds the exhibitors will be assured of a maximum attendance, for the Legion Fourth of July carnival has been one of the best attended affairs in the last few years, and plans for 1952 will make it the best and biggest in the entire northwest suburban area. A full program of varied entertainment, starting at 8 p.m. each night should attract and hold huge crowds. This program includes rides, games, amusements, nightly fireworks, nightly entertainment, and Earl McDonald, "the human torch," who leaps off a 75 foot high ladder into a flaming pool. Fourth of July evening a $1,000 fireworks display will be set off, the biggest ever in Arlington Heights and twice as good as last year's excellent show.

The big top presents a wonderful opportunity for local merchants to exhibit their products and services before these tremendous crowds and if the reception is as the Legion and Kiwanis expect it to be the merchants will have this opportunity each year for the big top will become an annual affair.

To present the big top to prospective exhibitors a prospectus, containing full details, has been prepared and a mailing made this week to merchants in Arlington Heights and immediate vicinity. The big top committee is prepared to mail this prospectus to over 1,000 prospective exhibitors in the northwest suburban shopping area after the local merchants have had the first opportunity to apply for space. Since there are only 90 booths available the committee hopes local merchants will appreciate the real opportunity this show offers them and apply for all the space. The Legion and Kiwanis are both local service organizations and it is their desire that the show be as local as possible.

For a copy of the prospectus or for additional information prospective exhibitors can contact Dr. R. H. Balfour, secretary of the big top committee, 6 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, phone Arlington Heights 10 or 2006-W.

Grade, high schools to elect boards

The Arlington Heights public elementary and high school districts will hold an election Saturday to elect four members each to their respective school boards.

There will be five polling places for the high school election. They are as follows: Precinct 1, public school, Wheeling; Precinct 2, village hall, Arlington Heights; Precinct 3, public school district 23, Prospect Heights; Precinct 4, public school, Mount Prospect; and Precinct 5, public school, Elk Grove.

Contestants in the high school election include three incumbents, Elmer F. Laurin, now president of the board, Arthur Skelton and A. C. Haake. The latter is running to fill an unexpired term of two years. Kenneth E. Dougan is a new candidate representing the non-incorporated area. He and the other two men are running for three year terms.

THERE IS only one polling place for the grade school and that is at the Arlington Heights village hall.

New members seeking election to the grade school board are Carl F. Mees and Richard L. Johnston, Mees to serve the remainder of a one year term, and Johnston to serve for a three year term.

Up for reelection are Robert R. Lockwood, now president of the board, and Melvin L. Kurtz, both to serve three year terms

Under a new law the president of the school board will be elected by board members within 10 days after they have been elected. Previously the president was elected by the people.

March building totals $190,779 in Arlington

Building is still booming in Arlington Heights according to the March report submitted by building commissioner Fred Hammer at the village board meeting Monday night.

During March Hammer issued building permits for 11 single family residences totaling $150,218; two private garages, $1,929; one store, $30,000; four additions to homes, $2,732 and one non-residential building, $5,900.

200 HOME OWNERS ORGANIZE FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT

The action of the City of Des Plaines is denying fire protection service to areas outside the city limits has resulted in the formation of two districts and possibly a third.

County Judge Edmund Jarecki Monday, approved the creation of a district between Des Plaines river, Rand road, River road and C. & N. W. R. R. comprising a square mile with 200 homes. It will be know as "The Hawthorne Rand Fire Protection district."

Des Plaines invites U. S. Gypsum to annex laboratory site to city

U. S. Gypsum, owner of ten acres east of the Benjamin Electric Co. at Des Plaines, one of the largest companies of its kind in the country, expects to erect a laboratory on the property next year.

Mayor Kenneth G. Meyer, has written the firm inquiring if it desired to have the property annexed to Des Plaines, also asking the amount of its water consumption.

'In again; out again'

Is history about to repeat itself in Arlington Heights? The zoning board of appeals will meet Wednesday night to hold a hearing on the rezoning of the Roth Mfg. Co. tract.

Petitions are now being circulated challenging the legality of the method used by Attorney Hugo J. Thal to annex the property. It will probably mean a court hearing and further delay for the establishment of a desirable industrial plant in Arlington Heights.

Primary vote was nearly 50 percent of registration

The big increase in voters' registration over a year ago was primarily for the November election, but nearly 50% of the registrants went to the primary as shown by the following table:

	Reg.	Voted	% vote
Palatine	5090	2111	41
Barrington	2672	1355	50
Wheeling	10739	4989	46
Elk Grove	3404	1764	51
Schaumburg	737	354	48
Hanover	1975	708	35

Northside has no parking problem

If a few of the southside Arlington Heights stores could be moved across the tracks, the shopper parking problem would be small. A survey Saturday afternoon revealed that half of the northside street parking areas were vacant.

It is reported that an Arlington chain store is prepared to pay a street building contractor several thousand dollars if he will plan the construction work on the Dunton street widening so that customers' access to its parking lot will not be closed at any time during the construction period.

Yet some business men close their eyes to the importance of shoppers parking.

State gives OK to Arlington Greens plat

A letter from C. W. Klassen, State Sanitary Engineer, informed the Arlington Heights village board Monday night that the sanitary district approves the plans for the proposed Arlington Greens subdivision. However, it would not permit connections to existing sewer and water service in the village until the board had let contracts for the proposed improvements.

Since the board took this action Monday night the subdivider of Arlington Greens will be given an OK to proceed with his work. The approval by the state will probably give the green light to other major subdivisions held up because of lack of sewer and water facilities.

THE BOARD of police and fire commission informed the village board that it has approved the hiring of Jack Aldrich as a permanent patrolman on the police department. This brings Chief C. H. Skoog's force up to a total of 11 men.

The ladies auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 981, was given permission to hold the annual poppy day in Arlington Heights May 23.

Robert Bruhnke, who requested permission to install a septic tank on his property on N. Chestnut, was granted the permission, with the provision that he connect to village sewer as soon as it came within reach of his property.

5,000 Wheeling voters help swell Taft, Stratton landslide

The northwest Cook county towns polled the heaviest vote Tuesday in their history. The general outpouring of the women folk was even a surprise to the Republican precinct captains and township committeemen.

The vote honors went entirely to the Republicans, who had the major number of contests. The Democrats had little reason to go to the polls and they stayed home.

As Jack Clark, Democratic chieftain of Wheeling township, congratulated Henry Busse, Republican committeeman over the heavy Republican vote, he added "We Democrats are saving our ammunition for November."

Elk Grove township has the honor of polling the largest percentage of registered votes. Out of 3,404 registered, 1,763 went to the polls, or 51%. Barrington and Schaumburg were second with percentages of 50% and 48%.

Wheeling township claims the honor in the percentage of Republican votes in a single precinct. 447 Scarsdale voters asked for Republican ballots and only 19 Democrats went to the polls.

Palatine polled 2,111 votes, which is double the number estimated by political wiseacres. Hanover did very well to get out 708 votes on a good day for farmers to work in the fields.

Taft and Stratton were both big favorites. In Wheeling township Taft polled 3,564 votes of the 4,475 cast by Republicans. Stassen was a poor third in this township. Eisenhower received 452 write-in votes, compared to 200 for Stassen.

The general also led Stassen in Elk Grove and Palatine townships. MacArthur received many complimentary votes.

Livingston, candidate for governor, had strong support in Wheeling, Elk Grove, Barrington and Palatine townships. As this issue goes to press it is indicated that he carried the country towns over Stratton.

So far as the Republicans are concerned it was a free and open primary. Many voters showed their independence by passing up the regular party slate and casting their vote for independents. This was especially true in the race of the third delegate for the national convention who was pledged to Eisenhower. He received over 1500 votes in Wheeling, 591 in Palatine and 469 in Elk Grove.

Stratton's popularity throughout the state made him a landslide winner. The northwest towns were on his bandwagon, almost from the start of the campaign.

Let Wine Put 'The' Flavor In Your

Flavorful Easter Hams

Parkway has selected two appetizing, taste-delighting ways to add to your Easter dinner.

BAKED HAM CALIFORNIA

Half a ham; Whole cloves; Prepared mustard; 1 cup honey; ½ cup California Port wine; ½ tsp. cinnamon; Canned pear halves; Maraschino cherries

Place ham, cut side down, in a shallow baking pan. Bake, uncovered, in a slow oven (275 deg. F.), allowing 30 minutes per pound. Remove skin from ham; score fat; place fat side up in pan. Stick with whole cloves; spread thinly with prepared mustard. Mix honey, Port and cinnamon; pour over ham. Place pear halves, cut side up, around ham; place a maraschino cherry in the hollow of each half. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) 30 minutes, basting frequently with the juices in the pan.

HOLIDAY BAKED HAM

Buy a half ham with label indicating par-boiling is unnecessary.

Keep at room temperature for several hours before baking. Place the ham, fat-side up, on a rack in an uncovered baking pan. Use no water. Bake in a slow oven (325 deg. F.). When the half ham is done, remove rind and cut lines in the ham with sharp knife and criss-cross them with other lines to form squares. Poke a whole clove in each corner of the squares. Rub the surface thickly with a mixture of equal parts of brown sugar, honey and 1 tablespoon grated orange peel. Add a mixture of equal parts of orange juice and Sauterne or Sherry to the bottom of the baking pan. Set the pan in a hot oven (475 deg. F.) for 15 minutes or longer to make it very brown. Baste it every few minutes with the juices in the pan. Do not pour juices on—this washes off the glaze.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

With the primary election held Tuesday in Illinois, every one's mind is on politics, and members of the Village Theatre are certainly no exception. The theme of their current production, "State of the Union," centers around the political maneuverings for a dark horse candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Last Saturday's parade and rally — for which only the hardiest of villagers ventured out—was to introduce the play's candidate, Grant Matthews, to the local citizenry. However, the driving rain and spring-time blizzard which chose to arrive at the very hour of the festivities dampened the spirits of everyone but the members of the Village Theatre, most all of whom participated.

"State of the Union," a comedy-drama by Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse of "Life with Father" fame, is a Pulitzer prize winning play, very much up-to-date. Names and events in the current news are mentioned in the dialogue with Senator Taft and General Eisenhower coming in for their share.

The play is being sponsored by the Merle Guild Post 208 the American Legion for the benefit of veterans rehabilitation. It will be held next week Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Methodist church. Tickets are $1 for adults and 60 cents for students and may be obtained from members of both groups, at Paddock Publications, Arlington Radio and Record shop, or at the door.

For an election year pickup, see "State of the Union."

The children's hour

Boys and girls of elementary school age or younger will have their inning Saturday when the much-anticipated VFW Easter egg hunt takes place. Ladies of the auxiliary will put in several busy nights this week readying the many eggs of different color. Boys and girls who find them can redeem them for cash prizes and additional special awards donated by the merchants.

This year's meeting spot is the South school from which the youngsters will be led to the secret hunting grounds by the Arlington police. The boys and girls will assemble prior to 2 o'clock and will start for the hunting grounds at that hour.

Spring in all of its beauty is ushered in by the beauty of the Easter season. Our thoughts are turned these days to the renewing of life after the long winter; the bright crocus and daffodil; the green of the leaves and grass, and the promise of more flowers after the spring rains.

In keeping with the Easter and spring theme there are three new books young people will enjoy reading: The "Golden Bible" with stories from the Old Testament, beautifully illustrated by Feodor Rojankovsky, selected and arranged by Elsa Jane Werner. The stories of Joseph in the Land of Egypt; The Ten Commandments; David and Goliath will bring to life the days of these Old Testament heroes.

FOR THE VERY small fry "The Look-Inside Easter Egg" by Pamela Bianco will bring delight with a story about Roxana, who enjoyed an Easter party with the Easter Rabbit.

"Everything that anyone would ever look for is usually where they left it," hooted the owl. "On a bush," sang the robin. "In the sky," sang the lark. "In a song in the spring." The Pussy Willow agrees in Margaret Wise Brown's newest book "Pussy Willow."

For the lover of adventure stories the special mystery and beauty of the sea, which Rachel Carson caught and translated so memorably in "The Sea Around Us," is again brought before the reader as the backdrop for Miss Carson's portrait of the birds and fishes that inhabit the eastern rim of our continent. In a series of descriptive narratives unfolding the life of the shore, the open sea, and the sea bottom, the author begins with the deep hush of a spring twilight along the North Carolina coast where the night sounds of the water are the only intrusion on the stillness. The author's newest book "Under the Sea-Wind" will intrigue those interested in the mysteries of the sea.

FOR THE Ellery Queen reader the book "Calendar of Crime" is filled with stories of mystery and crime as only Ellery Queen can narrate. "The Adventure of the Dead Cat," "The Medical Finger," "The Three R's," "The Needle's Eye," are just a few of the stories between the covers of this newest Ellery Queen book.

"Big Family of Peoples" by Irmengarde Eberle says "All men are brothers." This book shows us how true such a statement is. It relates with simplicity and clarity, and with graphic examples, how mankind changed into peoples of different races, different nationalities, and how these related peoples kept mixing through the centuries as they spread over the continents.

"Big Family of Peoples" is a book for those who are interested in what peoples make up their own country and the other nations of the world, and what all of them have achieved. It is a book about the brotherhood of man.

Beginning Friday, April 11, Friday library hours will be 3 to 6 p.m. There will be no Friday evening hours. The library is open to the public all day Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Other week days, 3 to 9 p.m.

Bell employees, friends, relatives view new dial telephone exchange

Friends and relatives of employees in Illinois Bell's business office here had a chance last week to get a first hand look at the new telephone exchange.

Even though a pane of glass separated the viewers from the equipment, the guests saw at close range the thousands of new dial switches which will be clattering away after the changeover to dial, in the equipment room.

Manager Lathen explained that the guests could not enter the equipment room because it might affect the dial switching apparatus.

"The equipment is sensitive stuff-so sensitive it has an allergy to people or at least to the clothes they wear." Lathen explained that the glazed tile walls and air regulating equipment are some of the ways the dial apparatus is kept free from dust and lint harmful to service.

ONCE THE switches get their final cleaning—they're actually vacuumed—traffic in the equipment room is kept to a minimum to prevent fuzz and lint from collecting on the equipment.

Installation of the dial equipment and new switchboards is almost completed. About 130 technicians of the Western Electric and Illinois Bell Companies have been working on the project.

The equipment will begin serving 7,400 telephones in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights this summer. It will also bring new service to those whose applications are delayed because of a lack of telephone equipment.

"This shortage problem is a very real thing to us," Lathen said. "It hasn't prevented us from continuing our dial program on schedule—although I must admit it has given us some scares. But, it has prevented us from giving service to all who want it—and from giving all who want individual-line service the class of service they've ordered."

Copper is the key to the situation.

"PRESENT allocations of copper for the second quarter of this year are about 75 per cent of what the Bell System requested. They are still below the amount we were allocated during the first three months of this year," the manager said.

"We've appealed this, of course. If we can get copper and other materials which are in short supply, we'll be able to expand further the telephone network."

The story of the telephone's first 75 years was told the visitors through a large exhibit placed in the business office. Mounted on three panels, was a model of Alexander Bell's first telephone, old-time wall telephones and headsets and photomurals of yesterday's operators at work. These contrasted sharply with the new developments in telephone also shown on the exhibit.

A second exhibit in the operating room permitted guests to hear how they sounded over the telephone as an automatic recorder recorded and played back their voices.

The tour of the dial exchange began and ended in the telephone business office, which commercial department employees have called "home" since February 4. The girls explained what makes the office tick, and so did Lathen.

POINTING out that the modern office from lights to desks and counters is designed for convenience and efficiency, Lathen told the group that it's the business office girl who makes it a friendly place.

Illinois Bell issues statement on effect of possible strike

The strike of Western Electric Co. that started Monday includes the employees of that company engaged in the installation of suburban dial equipment in the new Arlington Heights exchange. No picketing of telephone exchanges had been started up to Wednesday noon.

The extensive cable work to the new exchange duplicating all wires at present entering the old exchange, is the reason for the underground work in progress on State road. On the day of the "cut-over" to dial it will only be necessary to "cut the cables" at the old building.

A statement by the company regarding a possible strike follows.

"If this strike disrupts Illinois telephone service, it will be strictly an imported strike.

"Illinois Bell has no wage dispute. We have no parleys on. Wage increases recently were agreed upon for 5 of our 6 unions under friendly conditions. The 6th union, the CIO-CWA long distance operators and operators out-state, has not asked for a wage increase; a very good reason is that their contract does not expire until June. As this is written (Saturday) we have labor peace with all our people.

"The wage dispute in question is between the Western Electric Company and the Western Electric equipment installers and distributing house workers. The Western Electric installers put in central office equipment under contract in telephone buildings. There are 1,000 of them at this time scattered around Illinois. Their CIO-CWA leaders have refused an 11c an hour offer. They have announced that, in the event of a strike for higher Western Electric wages they will picket Illinois Bell buildings on a secondary basis, using 'hit and run' tactics.

"If these 1,000 Western Electric pickets, on orders from their Washington, D. C. headquarters, try to stop 40,000 Illinois Bell employees from giving telephone service, it will be another version of the 'innocent bystander' getting hurt. The union will be importing the strike to serve its interests. It can be assumed that they are trying to create an 'emergency' in Illinois where none exists.

"Even if they picket Illinois Bell buildings and try their announced hit and run tactics, we believe there will be no emergency. They have stated they will 'paralyze' telephone service. This same threat was made in November, 1950, and did not materialize. The facts are, at that time, when the CIO-CWA Western Electric installers tried the same tactics, local telephone service in Chicago remained completely normal. All maintenance forces in Chicago and in communities outside Chicago ignored their picket lines. At first long distance was slowed, then became substantially normal as trained supervisory teams, helped by operators who crossed picket lines, gave good service.

Cancer crusade launched at luncheon April 3

William J. Donovan, wartime chief of the Office of Strategic Services, opened the fifth annual cancer crusade luncheon of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, at the Morrison hotel, Chicago, April 3.

Donovan said cancer statistics indicate approximately 1,800,000 residents of Illinois are doomed to suffer from cancer at some time during their lives.

Under present conditions, he said, 450,000 of that number will be saved from death by medical attention, and another 450,000 would be saved if they received early attention.

Nat T. Burfeind, 1130 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, is chairman of the Northwest Suburban Cancer Society chapter.

Women's Republican club and Mrs. Wesley M. Dixon, Lake Forest, is Lake county chairman.

Ben Franklin store closes Mon. for 3 weeks to become a "self-help";

Ben Franklin store, Arlington Heights will close April 14 for a period of three weeks to permit alterations. It will re-open as a self-help store.

According to Ray Landmeier, operator of the store this new self-help system marks a new trend in variety store merchandising. It will mean faster service, and better values. It is a service that appeals to today's shopper.

Even shopping baskets will be available if needed to carry purchases to the check-out counter where they will be itemized and wrapped.

Announcement of the opening will appear in the Arlington Hts. Herald.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflow Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

"God so loved the world . . ."

The words rang in his ears like a dream of his childhood. As one awakened, stabbingly awake, yet dull and uncomprehending, "was it a good dream or a frightening dream?" Who would love the world? Is it enjoyed more than it is to be feared? Or we may alternate our times of fear and of pleasure.

He thought of all the millions who died for the world. He tried to think, was there ever one of all those millions who served in the wars that have filled our time who lived for the world? There never seemed to be one who talked about it.

"God so loved the world that He gave . . ."

BUT IN THIS dizzy struggle (he remembered the old song, "Until I get somethin' from somebody, I ain't never gonna give nothin' to nobody notime!") love seemed to be for kids, and giving seemed always to be tied up with getting.

Of course, a fellow couldn't go around talking about what a good guy he was, or how his heart was full of always thinking about other people first. People would think he was a liar or off his trolley.

"God so loved the world that He gave His only Son . . ."

What if, in every newspaper there was one headline, if on every billboard, if on every placard, there was one line, "There is a Man on a Cross"? He looked at his new suit; he thought of the bills for the family's Easter outfits; he looked about him at the other hard, set faces and saw the reflection of his own. And the words beat upon his ears, "And you put that Man on the cross!"

"Is it nothing to you, all ye who pass by?"

YOU HAVE on your new suit (Brooks Brothers); you have made the grade which permits you to advance from a Chevrolet to a Buick; you changed your residence from Garden Park to Park Gardens (and in five more years, you can build in Garden Estates.)

You are much too busy to reflect on the men and women of the world who own no more than the burlap or muslin wrapped around their backs, who carry great burdens on their shoulders because men are cheaper than mules. Walk quickly into the North Western station by way of the overpass lest you come too close to Skid Row where the derelicts gather—for they failed to make the grade!

"Is it nothing to you . . . that there is a Man on a Cross," and You put him there?

"But God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved."

Try a lighting recipe on your kitchen

First aid for an ailing kitchen usually calls for a new lighting plan. If you have only one fixture in the center of your kitchen, you probably find yourself working in your own shadow much of the time.

Cheerful, comfortable, time and energy saving lighting at the sink, range and at least one work counter, along with a generous ceiling fixture, was all the kitchen pictured in the inset circle above needed to make it a convenient room in which to work.

Simply by following General Electric's new Lighting Conditioning recipes a whole new atmosphere was created almost overnight.

Before the kitchen was relighted, the center fixture did little more than create uncomfortable glare.

A new fluorescent-type fixture with four 20-watt tubes and modern, streamlined lines as photographed on the upper right is both comfortable because of the sleek, plastic shielding and easy to clean.

Over the sink a shielded fluorescent unit mounted beneath the cabinet puts light where it's needed for dish washing or vegetable preparation.

As pictured at the lower left, a new shelf-like light over the range helps you see at a glance how things are cooking. Notice, too, how the glass top shelf allows upward lighting on the walls as well as generous light on range.

Where better to start with a lighting recipe than in a kitchen.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

To brighten your Easter Sunday dinner, serve a molded lamb cake that will delight the children and will make a delicious and appropriate dessert.

Housewives will enjoy making this cake, and it can be used as a centerpiece until it is served.

This recipe is a butter cake variation, resembling a pound cake in texture. It is not as delicate as the true butter cake as the batter must be stiff enough for the lamb to hold its head erect.

The metal mold, in which this cake is baked in the shape of a lamb, is made in two parts. The lamb is covered with white icing and sprinkled generously with coconut. A blue ribbon with a little bell or a garland of decorative icing roses is placed around the lamb's neck. Colored icing forms its lips, and raisins or chocolate chips are used for its eyes.

Bed the lamb on ferns, shredded green paper or green tinted coconut and place a few flowers about it.

Easter Lamb Cake

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter, add sugar, and cream until very fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add 1 cup cake flour, vanilla and milk. Beat well. Fold in remaining flour sifted with baking powder.

Coat lamb mold generously with pan-coat. This pan-coat is made by combining ½ cup vegetable shortening and ¼ cup flour and mixing them to form a paste. Pan-coat can be kept in a covered jar in the pantry and used for greasing pans for cakes.

Pour batter into face side of mold, filling it completely. Pour a spoonful of batter into deep portions of back of mold; place on top of filled mold.

Bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees, 50 minutes. Let cake stand for three minutes before removing from mold to cake cooler.

When cold, cover with boiled icing and sprinkle with finely chopped coconut. Use raisins or chocolate chips for eyes and red tinted icing for mouth. Or sprinkle confectioner's sugar over cake.

Present five awards and ten honorable mentions at art show

Last Sunday's reception of the third annual show of the Palatine Art League proved the interest in this affair on the part of the public. It was the occasion of the judging of the entire works of the show by the following out-of-town people:

Miss Marya Lilien, head of the department of interior design at the Art Institute of Chicago; Mrs. James Dow, Barrington art teacher, and Dean Chapman, director of the Elgin Academy Art Gallery. Five awards were given, three in painting and two in the crafts, and ten honorable mentions.

Miss Nancy Stearns of Forest ave., Palatine, who studied at Cranbrooke, won first prize with her picture entitled, "Street Scene," which was done in oil.

Maridan Mies, artist-teacher-housewife, Prairie View, won second prize with a casein impression of "Galena."

Robert Drayton, Des Plaines, architect, won third prize with his casein portrayal of an old shack entitled, "Derelict."

William B. Park, salesman, Prairie View, won first prize in the crafts division with his two exquisite silver handwrought ladles.

Mrs. Erna Kolb, Oak st., Palatine, artist-housewife, won second prize in the crafts with examples of ceramics, which she did in Europe.

The honorable mentions in paintings in alphabetical order were the following: Charles Klopp, architect, Palatine, a water color fondly called "The Road Home;" Esther Lundquist, housewife, Barrington, oil impression "Under the Old Apple Tree;" Mrs. William Mell, housewife and beginning painter, Prairie View, a casein aptly titled, "Almost Spring."

Mrs. Harry Paine, also a housewife and beginning painter, Prairie View, a casein study called "Ukulele Still Life;" Emmett Post of the Chicago Tribune, Palatine, presented a popular favorite, an oil marine entitled "September Sea;" Miss Mary Lou Sander, Jewel Tea employee, night school student and scholarship winner of Arlington Heights, oil, "Night School Nocturne," and Eugene Stone, retired, painter of one year, Palatine, oil, called "King's Fool."

The honorable mentions in the crafts were: Mrs. Lois Clayson, artist-housewife of Itasca, whose sterling silver jewelry won praise from all sides; Mary Jean Irion, artist-housewife of Long Grove, whose statuette of her young son in clay, "Bedtime," won honors, and Mrs. Charles Klopp, housewife, Palatine, whose hooked rug work has always been famous in Palatine, has now received wide recognition—a hooked rug stair runner depicting chapters of family interest, is well worth seeing.

Saturday will be the last day and the last opportunity to see this show. Works should be picked up at the school between 2 and 4 p. m. Visitors will be welcome. One hundred one entries in all doubled the participation each of the two previous years.

One of the most interesting things about the entire show was the wide radius from which people entered — Des Plaines, Lake Zurich, Mundelein, Volo, Mount Prospect, Prospect Hts., Arlington Heights, Barrington, Itasca, Prairie View, Long Grove and Palatine.

Mrs. Dorothy Wearing is president of the Palatine Art League, and Mrs. Charles Klopp is its secretary.

House heating

No harm would be done in letting an empty house get cold, provided all plumbing and heating pipes are completely drained. The harm that is usually done is in heating it again, with condensation of moisture of walls, ceilings and floors. Such damage can be avoided if, when you reopen the house, you heat it very gradually, with adequate ventilation to prevent the condensation of moisture.

State winner in Science Talent search

Ronald Taggart, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Taggart, S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights, has received notification from Frank H. Reed, chairman of the Science Talent committee of the Illinois Academy of Science, of his selection as a state winner in the recently conducted Science Talent search.

As a state winner, Ronald will be an honored guest at the annual banquet of the junior section of the academy at their meeting at Eastern Illinois State college at Charleston May 2, and will be presented with a certificate of award at that time.

Ronald's entry in the Science Talent search was a paper on "The Necessities and Possibilities for Improving Safety Design in Automotive Engineering," a subject in which he has been interested since the sixth grade. In the paper, the young scientist stressed the importance of safety belts, which he estimated would reduce injuries by 95 per cent, and the necessity of minimizing the reflective surfaces in front of the driver.

Ronald came to Arlington Heights township high school last year as a junior, entering from the high school at Indianapolis, Ind. He is a member of the cross country track team and of the Ushers club. He plans to enter Purdue university next year where he will major in mechanical engineering.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

As light dispels darkness, so divine Mind destroys the falsities of sin, sickness and death which oppose God's supremacy. The method by which this is accomplished will be explained in the Lesson-Sermon entitled ARE SIN, DISEASE AND DEATH REAL? which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 13.

The Golden Text is from Romans (8: 2) "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"What reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house. And immediately he rose up before them . . . and departed to his own house, glorifying God" (Luke 5: 22-25).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process. Healing the sick and reforming the sinner are one and the same thing in Christian Science. Both cures require the same method and are inseparable in Truth . . . It must be clear to you that sickness is no more the reality of being than is sin. This mortal dream of sickness, sin, and death should cease through Christian Science" (pp. 210, 404, 418).

SHOPPING with SHARON

You, just can't resist stopping to look at the attractive Easter pastries in the window of Arlington Cake Box. The proprietors have really gone all-out to please you. One cake actually looks like mother's Easter hat. On top of the wide brim is a two layer cake forming the crown decorated with spring flowers made of yummy icing.

Among the Easter pastries are butter cakes shaped in the form of a bunny holding a hard boiled egg, Easter baskets with a big cake egg in the center surrounded by smaller eggs and candy, a cocoanut lamb cake, little cup cakes with a rabbit sitting in the midst of jelly beans on a nest of delicious icing. Here's an idea . . . why not eat cake eggs instead of just candy ones this Easter.

Give an Easter gift that will be long remembered and cherished . . . give a watch made by Gruen, leaders in watch fashions. Karstens-Helbig Jewelers, exclusive Gruen dealers in Arlington Heights, are featuring these fashion-wise watches.

One style with a round face has raised points indicating the hour. There's one size for the ladies and another for the men. $71.50 each. Another lady's dress watch has a square face and the moon and stars will tell you what the hour is. This one's just $67.50. A platinum watch with diamonds on the quarter hour will please any man. Karstens-Helbig Jewelers also have the self winding Gruen watches.

The special nurse's watch made by Gruen with a sweep second hand at $49.75 is the perfect gift for every nurse. Another style that is more dressy has an expansion band.

Karstens-Helbig also feature a complete line of Elgin, Hamilton, Bulova, Wadsworth and numerous Swiss watches. Also included is a complete assortment of Timex watches for children priced from $5.95. All prices quoted include tax.

Easter just wouldn't be Easter without baskets to trim and fill or an Easter egg hunt. At our house the Easter bunny always hid baskets of goodies behind chairs, books, etc. This created a miniature hunt each year. Easter baskets in pastel colors and various sizes are now available at the Bounty Fair on Northwest hwy. in Palatine. These lovely baskets for 29, 39 and 49 cents were made in Italy. There's even a green and white checked one.

Flowers and Easter just sort of go together . . . so don't forget to surprise her with a lovely corsage or plant this Easter. Mr. Sauerland at Sauerland Flower Shop makes the loveliest corsages. Tell him what colors she's wearing this Easter, and she'll have the perfect complement in a corsage for her new outfit.

Plants look so lovely and do so much to brighten up a home. Easter plants at Sauerlands include lilies, tulips, hydrangeas, hyacinths and azaleas. Put your order in now and Sauerlands will deliver your flowers when you want them.

This is trite . . . but they say the way to a man's heart is through his stomach . . . I believe the way to a woman's heart is through flowers.

For Easter you'll want to give her something pretty and feminine . . . one of the organdy or cotton tea aprons at the Bounty Fair on Northwest hwy. in Palatine is just what you've been looking for. Lactopine products, a new addition at Sieburg Rexall Drug Store, had their romantic beginning in Switzerland when the friars used a "pine broth" to revive exhausted snowbound travelers. Today many physicians endorse and prescribe Lactopine baths. Lactopine, a pine bath oil made in Switzerland, will help you become completely relaxed. When social and business activities have been too strenuous, just step into a Lactopine bath and you'll quickly become completely relaxed.

If you like bubble baths, you will enjoy the same delightfully luxurious Swiss pine odeur in Lactopine bubble bath. And if you like to harmonize bath scents, you will enjoy Lactopine soap.

Lactopine air spray will destroy all stale, unpleasant odors from bath rooms, kitchens, sick rooms, etc., simply by gently squeezing the plastic bottle. The bath oil and bubble bath are made in $1 and $2 sizes. Don't forget to stop in at Sieburg's and try Lactopine products which soften even the hardest water.

PURCHASING FOR A SCHOOL SYSTEM

by DOLORES CONN

It is the general policy of this school system that business procedures are to serve the educational program rather than restrict and confine this program. However, the school system operates on a carefully prepared budget, approved and adopted annually by the board of education. Proposed purchases are carefully scrutinized for their usefulness, for proper pricing, and for evidence that the budget account in which the expenditure falls is adequate to cover the cost.

Requisitions from teachers and other employees are cleared through the proper administrator for a preliminary judgment regarding these matters before being presented to the superintendent for approval. He may disapprove the expenditure, he may approve the expenditure, or, in the case of major items, he may present the proposed purchase to the board of education for approval prior to placing the order. In any event, the procedure for making a purchase, checking the receipt of the goods, and making payment of the invoice are as follows:

"A REQUEST for Purchase Order," showing the company, the item, the cost, and the budget account to be encumbered, bearing the signature of the administrator making out the request, and having the signature of the superintendent is my authorization to prepare a purchase order.

Purchase orders are pre-numbered, made out in quintuplicate, and are issued as follows:

Copy 1 to be issued to the vendor.

Copy 2 to be permanently attached to the invoice.

Copy 3 to be filed numerically for permanent reference.

Copy 4 to be issued to the administrator making the request, to be returned to the superintendent's office after receipt of goods.

Copy 5 to be issued to the administrator making the request, for his files.

A "receiving slip" is made out for all goods delivered to a building before the goods is sent on to the appropriate person. One copy of this "receiving slip" is issued to indicate to whom the goods should go and the other goes to that person, so that he will be on watch for the goods. Services, such as repairs, are carefully observed by the proper administrator so that he will know when they have been completed and that the work is properly done.

INDICATION that goods has been received or services completed is made by the individual holding copies 4 and 5 of the purchase order. Copy 4 is returned to the superintendent's office checked, dated, and signed.

Then the superintendent's office attaches copy 4 and copy 2 of the purchase order to the correct invoice, which is also checked for accurate pricing and extensions.

Preceding each regular meeting of the board of education, it is my task to arrange all invoices ready for payment and place them on the superintendent's desk for approval and initialing. Following this, hectographed lists of all invoices payable are prepared for the superintendent and members of the board. All invoices presented to the board for payment are scrutinized and initialed by two members before final approval for payment is given by tre board. The board requires that a copy of a purchase order, signed by the superintendent, accompany every invoice when it is presented for approval.

FOLLOWING approval by the board at a regular meeting, the proper checks are drawn and that portion of the minutes which shows their approval is prepared for the signature of the president and secretary of the board. The checks then go to the township school treasurer for his signature. They come back to the superintendent's office for mailing to the proper recipient.

Subsequently, all expenditures must be posted, totals arrived at, and the necessary reports prepared to indicate to all concerned the current condition of each of over 100 different budget accounts.

The above may sound somewhat complicated and it is. However, in principle, it is no more than any careful housewife does when she pays the monthly bills. She wants to know that some member of the family bought the goods, that it had been agreed that it was a proper purchase, that the goods were actually received, and that the proper prices are found on the bill.

When the family reaches the size of the total number of employees of a school system, which needs everything from thumb tacks to fuel oil, and when the total expenditures run into large sums, the procedures have to be carefully routinized. As a matter of fact, carefully worked out routines well understood by everyone tend to make it possible for all concerned to know that their needs will receive proper consideration.

FREE GOLF SCHOOL FOR THE LADIES PLANNED IN MAY

Palatine's 20th annual Relays April 26 may set a record for the number of teams entered. Right now well in excess of 30 have given evidence of their intention to compete in the big Palatine meet. The fact that all events will be in classes will encourage more individual entries in class "B" and increase the individual participation to a new record. Arlington Heights, defending Class "A" champ, may have a hard time repeating judged by a bad beating suffered at the hands of Hinsdale and a close victory over class "B" Palatine last week. But then you cannot always judge strength for a relay meet by dual meet results.

Graziano hopes to go in fighting at 159 pounds

Rocky Graziano went into the final phase of his training schedule today as he prepares for his middleweight championship brawl with Sugar Ray Robinson at the Stadium April 16.

Rocky has been hard at work since the first week in December and is already near the 160 pound mark. He hopes to weigh in at 159, just a pound or so under his weight now. He has done 320 miles of road work so far for the fight.

Trainer Al Silvani points out his legs will have to be in the best shape of his career for the gruelling title bout with Robinson, who is fast and a top notch boxer. "We've got to go for the big punch, but Rocky has to be in shape cause he might not get in his good shot until late in the fight," is the way Silvani explains it.

ROBINSON, meanwhile has been going full blast at Pompton Lakes, N. J. where he has plenty of sparring partners. He plans to be in Chicago the end of the week.

Rocky has won 20 straight fights, including 18 knockouts since his last defeat at the hands of Tony Zale in 1948.

Robinson has defended his title once since regaining it from Randy Turpin last September. He has fought for the middleweight title four times. He won the title from Jake LaMotta in the Stadium in February, 1951. Then he lost it to Turpin last July, won it back in September, and defended it successfully against Bobo Olson in San Francisco.

Graziano fought Zale three times, losing, then winning and finally losing the 160 pound crown back to Zale in 1948. Since then he has piled up a phenomenal KO mark and contends he is ready for another try.

Intra-squad games to tell tennis berths

It'll be net one, twirl two next Thursday, April 17, when Coach Ray DeGreeff's tennis hopefuls take on Crystal Lake in the initial season match. West Suburban conference play begins April 22 for Arlington with Riverside-Brookfield coming to town.

Sixteen matches are slated for the locals, with Niles slated for April 25 and May 9, Leyden May 12, and Crystal Lake May 15. The rest are conference meets, all of them two division affairs. Niles also includes both varsity and frosh-sophs, while Crystal Lake and Leyden are strictly varsity affairs.

INTRA-SQUAD matches were slated to start Tuesday of this week, determining singles and doubles positions. Tom Bowersox and Rodney Peltier have nailed down first and second singles. Shooting for third spot are Alan Ross, Charles Knapp and Tommy Birkholz.

Knapp will be used at either the third singles position or on the doubles. Two of the three boys will probably make up the number one doubles combination.

Three boys trying for the other doubles pair are Ray Holmes, Mike Dutton and Jay Vawter.

COMPLETE SCHEDULE:

Thursday, April 17, Crystal Lake, varsity only, there.
Tuesday, April 22, Riverside, here.
Thursday, April 24, Maine, there.
Friday, April 25, Niles, here.

Barrington plays Pekin twice in 19-game schedule

The Northwest baseball schedule is cut to six games this year by the decision of Wauconda to concentrate on track to the exclusion of the diamond sport. The league schedule opens April 29 though many of the schools will play quite a few non-league games prior to that date. The most ambitious schedule is that arranged by Coach Les Harman of Barrington's defending champs. The Bronchos will play 19 games this spring, highlighted by games both at home and away with Pekin, one of the strongest outfits in the state.

Like Bison chances in spring baseball

We will go out on a limb at this early date and pick Bensenville to cop Northwest baseball honors. We like their chances with Jim Karrigan on the hill again and Marlyn Merholtz behind the bat. In high school the battery is 60% or more of the team and this combine has 10 other lettermen, including a veteran infield. We do not think the Bisons will ever have a better chance to come out on top, but anything can happen in a short six game schedule.

Hebron best cage drawing card in Illinois

Hebron is really going big time next year. Davenport, Iowa champ for the past three years, and Hammond, a power in Indiana basketball, have each signed the Green Giants at a $500 guarantee we are told. Coach Russ Ahearn has no trouble getting $200 bids for away from home games with big schools where a year or two ago none of the big ones wanted to take a chance on losing prestige by playing and losing to little Hebron.

Now the Hebron team is the best drawing card in Illinois. Ahearn has had a busy time since the state tournament with 20 speaking engagements lined up for him at $50 a night.

Dundee and Libertyville join summer league

The Northern Illinois summer baseball league will function again this summer. At a meeting at Barrington Tuesday night Dundee and Libertyville joined the summer league and Marengo dropped out. Grayslake was not represented and if they quit the league it will still be an awkward nine difficult to schedule. Either Grayslake or another team will be sought to make the circuit one of 10 teams and split into two divisions.

Elgin, Barrington, Palatine, Hebron, Woodstock, Antioch, and Harvard have indicated that they will again play in the league. Dundee and Libertyville will add strength and stability to the league as they will give the league teams which will have good community support and interest. If Arlington Heights or Ela-Vernon would join the circuit in the South or McHenry in the North the league would have another real lift in prestige.

Card runners double winners over Downers

Arlington won a double victory over Downers Grove track squads Tuesday, the varsity winning, 61-57, and the yearlings, 8-1. Heights gained a grand slam in the 100 while Downers did the same in the mile and pole vault. Arlington took first and seconds in the high and low hurdles, and the 440.

Three big innings bring 8-2 win in opener for Card nine

Combining eight runs in three big innings against Hinsdale Monday at Recreation park was more than enough for Arlington's high school Cardinals as the local nine copped thteir first West Suburban league game, 8-2. The locals are now in first place by dint of victory and the alphabet.

Bob Simmons and Tom Meyer pitched for the locals, allowing five hits and striking out 11. Both boys looked good, with Simmons looking particularly sharp, especially in the initial frame when he fanned three.

The locals were slated to meet Niles Wednesday and Maine Thursday of this week.

AFTER MAREK struck out, Konicki was safe on Dassonville's error and left fielder Greek struck out. Hinsdale first baseman Don Vena rapped a double to deep left to score Konicki from first. Spamer singled but catcher Morrow struck out to end the inning.

Arlington bounced right back. Grace and Hesch singled, and Schmidt walked, filling the bases. Intravartolo walked to force in Grace with the tying run. After Gorder struck out, Dassonville forced Intravartolo at second. Two runs scored, however, when second baseman Marek threw wild to first trying for a double play. Eakins popped to Vena.

In the second inning Bill Lynk singled to left and Simmons bunted, beating out a hit with Lynk going to third and scoring on Vena's wild toss. Simmons went to second on the play. Grace struck out, and Hesch was out, Konicki to Vena, Simmons going to third. When Schmidt beat out an infield hit, Simmons scored. Straus fanned to end the inning.

IN THE FOURTH Heights ground out a bit more insurance. After Hesch grounded out, Marek to Vena, Schmidt beat out his second infield hit of the day and went to second when Intravartolo was hit by a pitched ball.

Card enthusiasm lagged when Straus fanned for the second time until Dassonville hit a single to left, scoring Schmidt. When the left fielder booted the ball, 'Trav" went to third and Dassonville to second.

Johnny Eakins scored both with a hot single through first. Lynk grounded out, Konicki to Vena, to end the scoring.

HINSDALE ended the game as they started it. They scored once in the seventh as Krause knocked a triple to deep center over Nolte's head. Marek struck out, but Konicki hit a Texas leagurer to right, scoring Krause. Greek was out, Meyer to Dassonville, and Vena popped to Grace to end the game.

Simmons was top man in the twirling department with ten strike outs, three walks, allowed three hits and no earned runs. Meyer, pitching two innings, fanned one, walked one, allowed two hits, and permitted one earned run.

FOR THE LOSERS Les Konicki struck out five, walked two, allowed 11 hits and six earned runs. Don Bauer, twirling two innings, fanned three and walked one.

Another game

Another game has been added to the varsity baseball schedule at Arlington with the addition of a traveling game at Leyden May 29. Card plans include 14 league contests, plus two with Niles and Leyden each year. Next year Heights will play at Niles while Leyden will visit Arlington.

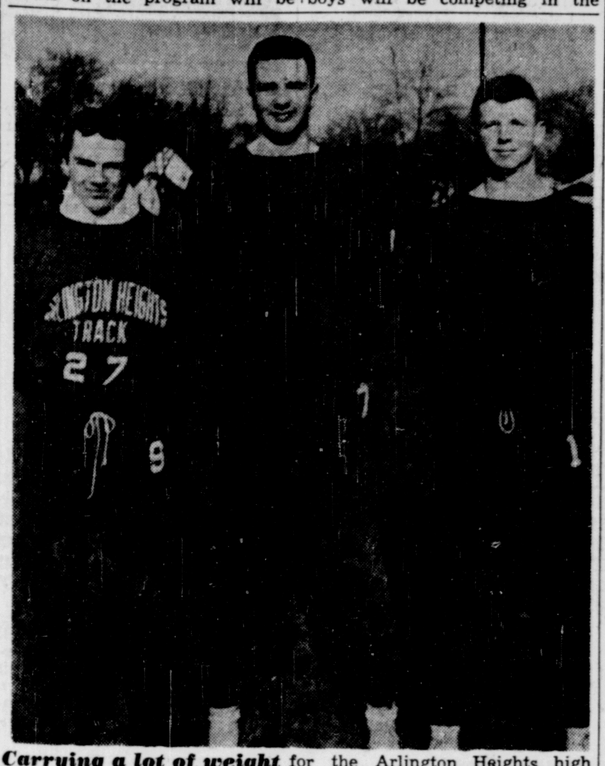

Illini hopefuls

Bob Potter, Downers Grove senior, is aiming for number three pitching position with the Illini baseball squad. Bill Boon Downers sophomore, is striving for number three catcher.

35 schools may run in Palatine Relays

Thirty-five schools have returned cards indicating they will send entries to the 20th annual Palatine Relays to be held Saturday, April 26. With the class 'B" group extended to 500 there are 25 schools planning to compete in that class with ten remaining in the "A" division. This year all events on the program will be in classes, which extends class "B" competition and interest in the meet.

The program starts at 9:15 Saturday morning with all field events completed before noon. In the afternoon the program will be entirely relays and running events starting at 1:00. Over 700 boys will be competing in the meet for 310 medals and the two championship trophies.

Carrying a lot of weight for the Arlington Heights high school Cardinals this spring are Norbert Leckband, Dick McAuliffe and Dick Winterbauer. Leckband is rated a pole vaulter by trade, but two injuries have kept him out of meets to date. McAuliffe was the big hero in last week's victory over Palatine when he took the high jump at 5' 4" in the final event of the day. Winterbauer is number one boy in the shot and discus. Folkman photo

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, coached by Russ Attis, is defending champion with two straight to their credit in class "A". Mooseheart has taken two "B" championships in a row and is favored again this season. Palatine trailed Mooseheart by ten points in the second spot and Libertyville was second to Arlington in "A" class by ten points a year ago.

Naperville and Geneseo who move into "B" class this year are likely possibilities to take the title from Mooseheart. Schools new to the Palatine Relays will be Grayslake, Riverside-Brookfield, Reavis, Dundee, St. Thomas of Rockford, and Hall township of Spring Valley. Ottawa has requested entry blanks and might be another new entry.

CLASS "A" TEAMS expecting to compete are Arlington Heights, Belvidere, Crystal Lake, DeKalb, Grant, Leyden, Libertyville, Niles, Riverside, and Zion-Benton; In "B" class are the following: Antioch, Barrington, Batavia, Bensenville, Dundee, Ela-Vernon, Geneseo, Grayslake, Hall Twp., Harvard, Honenagah, Lake Forest, Marengo, Mooseheart, Naperville, Oswego, Ottawa, Palatine, Reavis, Somonauk, St. Charles, St. Thomas, Sycamore, Warren, Wauconda and Woodstock.

Release team rosters for Mt. Prospect golf league

by CHUCK WROBEL

Golf's warning cry, "fore," will be heard echoing over the fairways of the sporty Mount Prospect country club Tuesday and Wednesday evenings as the men of Mount Prospect twilight golf league square off against one another in opening matches April 29 and 30. This will be the twelfth season of play for the league.

It will be remembered that a Mount Prospect team was victor in the Paddock Publications tournament held August 19 last year.

In the annual inter-city rivalry between the champs of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, Hook's Nursery of the Wednesday division notched a leg on the new trophy donated by Bob Sophie of the Mount Prospect country club. Arlington Heights loop had stashed away the previous emblem by virtue of three wins.

Hook's Nursery had won the right to represent the Mount Prospect league by defending the Tuesday division champs, K. R. Whitton Realtors.

Forecast in brief—

Arlington Heights high school baseball followers were warned this week by John Q. Fan not to get too optimistic over the 8-2 Hinsdale win in the school's initial contest as the local Cardinals prepared to meet Niles Wednesday of this week, Maine Thursday, Downers Grove Monday and LaGrange Thursday, April 17.

Hinsdale finished last in '51 and, though having a veteran squad with practically every boy back, still rate in the lower bracket. The Heights nine will probably do about as well this year as last, though Coach Wally Grace is shooting for improvement of last season's 11-5 record.

THE TRACK squad journeys to Maine Tuesday for a two-division meet. The locals should lose a close one, but might surprise. Last year the host school was a close notch ahead of Heights in both divisions of the league meet. Big problem for Coach Attis is lack of a pole vaulter without Leckband, who is still favoring his ankle, a good broad jumper and a good high jumper.

In golf Coach Curtis Larsen and his West Suburban championship golfers could have another good year, but it's still a little early to make any forecasts.

In tennis, anything is an improvement.

Baseball looks good at Palatine

Baseball prospects at Palatine high are improving year by year with the coming 1952 season one in which the Pirates are going to be real contenders if the pitching holds up. Coach Claude Bailey has 11 lettermen with strength at every position. Paul Schrage, Joe Wundsam, Bob Meyer, and Ken Kolze have had hurling experience in last year's summer league where the Pirates had an 8-8 record. Don Zoellick is a capable catcher and a good hitter.

Paul Schrage, alternating between third base and the mound, clubbed the ball an average of .435 in the spring and .412 in the summer seasons last year as a sophomore. Dick Abrahamson, first baseman, hit .400 as a sophomore and knocked out a number of home runs.

BOB LORDEN in the outfield hit .368 for the summer. Bill Senne, veteran of the 1950 season, is back to add strength to the outfield. Ken Kolze has been a regular two years at short and Dan Day, Gerry Herrmann, and Ken Rehusch are other infield lettermen. The Hartmann twins, Frank Hummel, "Tinker" Meyer, Charles Bitz, and Art Welch are others expected to break into the lineup.

The Pirates shut out Northbrook without a hit in a practice game Tuesday and next Monday will travel to Woodstock for a practice doubleheader which should give all the squad members of both schools a chance to show their stuff. Other practice games are being booked with Libertyville and Northbrook before the Northwest season opens early in May.

Paddock sponsors four week classes at Arlington club

A four week free golf school for the ladies—that is the announcement put out this week by the sports department of Paddock Publications in cooperation with Dan Taggart of Arlington country club.

The past two years Paddock Publications has sponsored an inter-league golf tournament for men duffers of seven loops. This past January the first bowling tournament was inaugurated between first place keglers.

NOW THE ACCENT is on the ladies. In addition to the annual golf meet slated for August 17 at Mt. Prospect country club among first place men's teams of seven local golf loops, the sports department is planning this golf school for the ladies.

No money is required, no registration fee will be necessary. All any lady would-be golfer need do is show up with a club, a ball, and a desire to play. Dan Taggart will do the rest, giving free instruction on four successive Tuesday evenings starting at 7 p. m. May 6.

ALSO ELIGIBLE for this instruction are both boys and girls of local high schools. Classes for them will be given, free of charge, Thursday evenings for four sessions starting May 8. Students must bring their ID cards.

In case rain cancels any of the sessions they will be held the following Thursdays.

Those wishing to take this instruction from golf pro Dan Taggart, once hailed the youngest pro in the Chicago area at 13 (29 years ago, for the benefit of a few), are asked to fill in the blank on the second sport page so that some idea of attendance can be gained and proper accomodations can be provided.

THE ARLINGTON country club, for many years a private setup, was not operated from 1941 until the end of '49 when Taggart took over and has spent most of his time since getting the greens and fairways in shape. Some golf was played last season but condition of the course is 100% better than even the end of last year.

Taggart is tossing special inducement at the ladies along with the golf classes in cooperation with Paddock Publications. He is opening his course every morning, Monday through Friday, to the ladies during the month of the classes for just 50c a round.

More details of the classes will be given next week.

Aptakisic girls beat Wheeling girls in basketball Sunday, March 30, 41-33.

The game was close all the way until Aptakisic stepped ahead and won the game in the last quarter.

Wheeling had a height advantage over Aptakisic which made it harder for Aptakisic to win.

Judy Rachow, outstanding player on the Aptakisic team, hit an all time high with 26 points.

Aptakisic points: Judy Rachow 26, Judy Weiland 5, Carol Weiland 5, Libby Smith 3, Jan Rachow 2, Trudy Lang 0.

FRIDAY, APRIL 11, 1952

All take a week off, except the coaches

The boys that set vacation dates for local high schools forgot that coaches like a day off now and then, too. For in spite of most schools shutting down for a week or more in every instance, athletic schedules go on uninterrupted.

At Arlington, for instance, vacation starts Thursday afternoon. Prior to the first bell again Monday, April 17, while other students are taking it easy, baseball players will be practicing and playing three games with Maine, Downers Grove and LaGrange.

THE GOLF squad will be practicing for its first match the following week.

The tennis boys will be working out and playing their first match at Crystal Lake.

The cindermen will be conditioning themselves each day and meeting one of the tougher opponents of the league, Maine.

AND WHILE you're crying for the coaches, keep that towel handy, think of the poor sports writer who, starting this week and running through June 1, will be covering 116 athletic events for Arlington.

Golf heads the parade with roughly, 42 matches for the two squads. Baseball with three nines has 36 games, tennis coach Ray DeGreeff has 27 contests planned for his two squads, and poor little Russ Attis will be running his head off with 25 track meets for the two aggregations.

York and Riverside to help Glenbard open track slate

Arch-rival York and Glenbard's cindermen will clash on the Riverside-Brookfield track Friday, April 10, in a triangular meet which will officially open the West Suburban conference track schedule. However, York's thinclads are favored to carry most of the events in the trio-affair.

They have shown their usual power in the Naperville Relays where they finished near the top bracket and the Oak Park Relays, one of the best in the state, where they outclassed most of the other WSC entrants.

It will be the first outdoor meet for all three teams entered but York's runners will have the edge because they were entered in several indoor meets and should be in mid-season form to take on the Bards and the Bulldogs.

LITTLE IS KNOWN about the RB crew for they haven't any indoor matches. However, they have been conditioning themselves for the past few weeks for the meeting of the York-Glenbard squad.

York is strong in every event and has an especially good relay squad. One of the top battles of the afternoon will be staged between York's Dick Muessig and the Bards' Tom Peters in the shot. Muessig edged Peters in the Naperville Relays preliminaries, but the Bards' sophomore has been steadily improving and is consistently tossing the 12 pound weight 45 feet.

Another strong race will be featured between Tom Hill of the Hilltoppers and Robert Yde of the Dukes. The pole vaulting opponents will each be clearing the bar in the vicinity of 11 feet.

GLENBARD'S Al Harp is expected to capture the broad jump event, for he has been hitting 19' 6" easily in the spring workouts.

York will hold a big advantage in the 880 yard run, however, for three of their runners have looked good in preliminary tests. Robert Bohmer leads the pack with a 2:07.8 indoor mark, fairly good while John Smith is right at his heels.

One half-miler expected to make a start for the first time this season is Glenn Schricker who captured third place in the conference last season.

Glenbard's top half-miler, Dave Clarke, will, however, give the Duke runners a run for their money and has a good chance to turn in an upset.

One clear-cut victory for the Hilltoppers will be the mile where Tom Mueller and Dick Cline will bolster the Bard squad.

Mueller, Glenbard's No. 1 miler, twisted his ankle in the Naperville Relays but has been back in action for the past week.

ONE OF GLENBARD'S weaker events, the dashes, looks like a possible turning point for the Duke thinclads. Jasper Daube is the No. 1 Duke sprinter although Al Harp and Jack Hesterman may upset the York speedster. Glenbard's co-captain, Chuck Wertz, is one of the favorites for the 440 dash and is one of the key men on the relay team.

Neither team has top conference hurdlers so that will give the Bards' John Ford a good chance to gather some badly needed points.

Richard Lynn of the Barons is expected to capture the high jump event. The Duke ace clears the bar at about 5'8", way over Glenbard's standards.

However, even if York seems to have the edge in the individual events, RB's thinclads could balance out the tri-meet to give Glenbard a good chance.

Bard netmen to play Blue Island

Glenbard's tennis team will make one of the longest treks of the season when they invade the Blue Island courts Friday, April 10. They tied the ex-state champions in last year's match, 3-3, but for the present little is known about the Island club. Their top man graduated, which will make the going easier for Glenbard.

However, the Bard netters will be hampered by the absence of No. 2 singles man, John Wise. Henry Dilcher will move up to the second spot to take Wise's place while Roger Steib competes in No. 3.

NEXT MONDAY the squad will invade West Aurora courts in their third match of the season. Wise will be on hand in this meet. Coach Magor will take a few sophomores along with him in preparation for the frosh-soph tennis meet.

One of the top men on the yearling septet is Bill Gooch, who looks like the No. 1 choice for top man. Other outstanding sophomores are Dave Canfield, Harvey Michelson and Dave Johnson.

One of the big things the underclassmen need, said Coach Magor, is depth. Only a few boys are competing in the frosh-soph bracket.

Two rallies bring Bards Wheaton win

Rallies in both the fourth and fifth innings gave the Glenbard nine enough margin to whip the Wheaton Tigers Thursday in the opening game of the season for both clubs, 9-6. The Hilltoppers collected a quartet of runs in the fourth and followed it up with three more in the fifth.

Dick Whitehead, Glenbard's starting pitcher, chalked up his first win of the year as he went the full route for the Bards and allowed the Tigers just seven hits. Jobson of Wheaton was charged with the loss after he relieved Hoker at the beginning of the fourth.

Whitehead added to his own cause as he pounded out a pair of hits in three trips to the plate while Wayne Gieske slammed out two safeties in three times at bat. Morgan Westley of the Bards drove in three runs with a round-tripper in the fourth inning.

Wheaton's pace-setters were their two lead-off batters, Hamilton and Conrath, who each banged out two hits in four trips. One of Hamilton's hits was a circuit clout which by passed the left fielder and rolled all the way to the edge of the fence.

WHITEHEAD had a little trouble getting started in the early frames and was in trouble in the initial inning. Wheaton's Conrath started with a single, then stole second. Whitehead walked the next batter before Fix popped out.

A single by Balzhiser drove in two runs after the Bards committed a few errors before Kunhen grounded out to end the frame. Whitehead had his worst control trouble in the third when he walked in a run after loading the bases, but a good fielding job by the Hilltoppers got him out of serious trouble.

The green team didn't get going until the fourth when they sent a flurry of three hits, including Westley's home run, to the Wheaton fly chasers. The Tigers gave the Bards a walk to increase the scoring. After Dick Ebeling flied to Conrath, Gieske sent a sizzling liner into right field for a single.

McCRARY followed it by taking a ball four count, moving Gieske into scoring position. After Jobson fanned Glenbard's Denny Vorbau, Westley hit a screaming liner into left field. The fielder came charging in trying to make a shoe-string catch but missed and the ball went right past him. The Bards tied the score, then continued their rally when pitcher Whitehead rapped out a single through the pitcher's box. He stole second.

Harold Corrigan hit a high fly out to left center field. Both the center and the left fielder came under the ball and collided to give the Bards another chance, Whitehead scoring. Hollenbeck ended the inning as he popped to the first baseman.

The Tigers blazed away for two more runs in the bottom of the fourth to regain their lost lead.

DICK WEICHENHAIN smashed a hard grounder at short in the fifth and it went through for an error. Weichenhain went to second on a passed ball before Ebling lined a single into left field to drive Weichenhain to third. Gieske hit a long drive deep into center field, Weichenhain tagging and scoring to knot the game at four apiece.

McCrary kept the rally alive by rapping out a single. He went to second on a fielder's choice as Ebling tallied to put the Bards out in front once again, 5-4. Vorbau drove the ball into the outfield for another single to drive in Ebling before Westley forced Vorbau at second on a fielder's choice.

The Tigers went scoreless for the next two innings but the Hilltoppers added two insurance runs in the sixth. Wheaton made a valiant attempt in the final frame, but the Bards snuffed any chances for a Wheaton victory to gain a decisive 9-6 triumph. Box score:

Grid clinic

Every phase of football will be discussed by a panel of experts at the Illinois high school spring football coaching clinic at Champaign April 25-26. Heading the faculty are H. N. "Rusty" Russell of Southern Methodist and Ray Eliot, coach of Illinois' Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions.

Emphasis again will be on practical demonstrations at every clinic session and visiting coaches will have opportunity to observe the annual Blue White spring football game between picked teams of the Illinois spring practice squad at 1:30 p. m., April 26 in Memorial stadium.

Scenes like this will soon be numerous at Maywood Park where racing returns to the Chicago area Tuesday, April 15. Maywood has a 59 night season continuing through June 21.

Arlington tops Palatine track team in thriller

Final event decides contest for Cards

Palatine's track squad, defending Northwest conference titlists, almost accomplished the impossible Thursday afternoon of last week when it came down to the wire, the high jump, with a first and second needed for victory over Arlington Heights.

The inter-school rivalry has always included both basketball and track, with Palatine garnering its share of cage wins. But in track it has always been a different story with Heights sprinters always leading the way locally.

LAST WEEK Palatine hoped to turn the trick. They were down three points, 53½ to 50½, going into the final event, the high jump. Two boys from each school were still competing, including McAuliffe and Whitelaw for the Cardinals and Zoellick and Nesset for the Pirates.

Dick McAuliffe pulled the meet out of the fire, clearing 5' 4", while the other three boys tied for second.

Palatine took the only grand slam of the day, the mile, with Vogt copping the event in 5:20. Arlington took the first two places in the high hurdles, Kent winning honors in :16.4. Palatine took the first two spots in the low hurdles, Stenzil copping in :22.1.

HEIGHTS GAINED its margin in the "6-3" department, however, when the team copped first and thirds in four events, the 100, 220, 440 and 880. Palatine did the same in the broad jump.

The frosh-soph half of the meet was a runaway for Arlington, 82-17. The young Cardinals took everything in sight, tying only in the high jump. Mark here was 4' 6".

Werner took three firsts, running the 100 in :11.1, the 220 in :24.3, and broad jumping 18' 4". Ellis took firsts in the high hurdles at :17.8, the 440 at :58.3, and tied in the high jump.

The bugle call for the opening of the Chicago area racing season will sound at Maywood Park Tuesday, April 15, at 8:30 p. m.

Barrington cagers dine, get letters

Stu Holcomb, Purdue football coach was guest speaker at the fourth annual Barrington high school athletic banquet held in the school cafeteria.

Dave Heckmiller was elected honorary captain for the past season and Fred Cochran most valuable player. Mickey McGowan, with a .686 free throw average, had his name added to the free-throw plaque.

The following letter awards were made by the athletic director and basketball coach, Les Harman.

Major: Fred Cochran, Mickey McGowan, Deane Paulson, Berry Berghorn, Chuck Hohlfelder, Dave Heckmiller, Gordy Liebert, Jack Schwemm, Doug Stevenson, Tige Aspinwall, Ernie Gerlach, Ronny Dockery.

Minor: Doug Smith, Bill Staehle, Stan Hartwig, Bob Olson, Ralph Schroeder, Bill Newport, Roger Wessel.

Gordie Busse top sprinter at Bradley

Gordon Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Busse, 836 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, is a candidate for the Bradley university track team.

Busse, the outstanding sprinter on the Hilltop cinder crew, could carry on from a fine freshman career to become the finest dashman in this part of the country.

Besides such traditionally rugged opponents as Notre Dame, Drake, Marquette, Wayne, Michigan Normal and Loyola of Chicago, the Braves will compete in the Kansas Relays, the Iowa State Teachers Relays, the Drake Relays, the Central Collegiate conference meets, and the AAU championships.

Ramsey, who starred for the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league last fall, will be starting his first year as Bradley track coach.

Release slates for yearling nines at Heights

Complete schedules for frosh-soph and freshman baseball teams at Arlington Heights high school have been announced by athletic director Wally Grace. The yearling squads are coached by "Bus" Ormsbee.

For the frosh-sophs eight games are included, the opener May 6 at Maine. Two earlier dates are still to be added with Elgin. The slate includes four at home, four away.

The first year men have just six tilts carded.

Illini trackmen to open outdoor slate

Illinois outdoor track team will open its season April 19 at Ohio State participating in a five-team relay meet involving the Illini, Buckeyes, Michigan, Michigan State, and the Army Air Force squad, Coach Leo Johnson announced.

The relay meet replaces a dual contest charted with Ohio State for May 21, Johnson said. Competition in relay events will serve as a warmup for the Penn and Drake relays the following week.

Illinois' revised outdoor schedule is as follows:
April 19—Relay meet at Ohio State.
April 25-26—Drake relays at Des Moines.
May 10—Michigan at Memorial Stadium.
May 17—Wisconsin at Memorial Stadium.
May 30-31—Big Ten championships at Michigan.
June 13-14—NCAA championships at Berkeley, Calif.
June 20-21—NAAU championships at Long Beach, Calif.
June 27-28—Olympic trials at Los Angeles, Calif.

Marv Berschet of Arlington Heights is captain of the Illini track team.

Hinsdale looks good in track

Hinsdale's trackmen, second only to LaGrange's thinclads, will undoubtedly prove a formidable opponent to the traveling Bards next Tuesday afternoon. The Red Devils have such a well-balanced team that any Bard chances are practically nil.

Only the distance events puzzle the Demon squad. Tom Mueller is favored to add some points to Glenbard's side, while Tom Peters of the locals will enter in another hand-to-hand battle, this time with Don Vena, all-conference football player.

The shot put artists will be slinging the 12 pound ball for the five points which go along with first place. Peters has a slight edge on the powerful Vena and if he hits his stride, he should cop the event.

In every other event, the Hinsdalians have the edge. Jack Morehead should pace the Demon dash men while Elmer Busch, Tom Skubich, and George Moyers lead the hurdlers. Bob Deroche is the favorite in the 440, and Skubich and Moyers in the pole vault. Busch, Moyers, and Skubich also compete in the high jump.

Wasser was there

Norman Wasser holds the distinction of being the only athlete to compete for three universities in Penn Relay carnivals. Wasser, who won the shot put in 1944 as a representative of Notre Dame, competed for N. Y. U. in the 1943 carnival and was an Illinois weightman in the 1946 carnival.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY IN REAL ESTATE

We are looking for a mature [illegible] with experience in Insurance, Building & Loan or [illegible]ing closely allied to Real Estate.

Age is not an important factor if the person we are seeking is in good health, of an aggressive nature and above all ambitious.

We would prefer a man able to finance himself as a result of his past success. His ambition should be such that in the near future he would be desirous of a partnership in an established business.

This is not an Ad for a real estate salesman. It is an invitation from a successful Real Estate Broker seeking to expand his business and share his success with a man able to assume responsibility.

If you are a person of self-discipline and like to work without continuous supervision and your present work does not seem to offer the opportunity that your ambition demands, we will consider it a favor for you to contact us.

DON'T BLOCK PASSAGE WAYS

If your home has no hallway and family and guests enter directly into the living room, then furniture should be arranged so as NOT to block passage ways from the door to other areas of the house. Avoid selecting pieces that are bulky and apt to bulge over into traffic lanes.

ALLOW FOR FREE MOVEMENT

. . . by planning the passage ways and arranging furniture in groups that leave ample room for moving in and about easily. One very simple way to accomplish this is to draw imaginary passage way lines on the floor then balance furniture in groups (or pieces) on either side of the lines.

We'll be most happy to assist you in any way we can with your furnishing and decorating problems, so please feel free to come in and consult with us about them . . . any time.

Small-scaled upholstered pieces — especially sofas — are often the right answer to the crowded room problem. We have several styles scaled to smaller homes. Come in and look around. We are sure you will find the right sofa for YOUR home.

Lighter-weight occasional and lounge chairs are becoming increasingly popular. Often the addition of one new chair gives a lift to the entire room. See our new selections now while stocks are complete. Choose from a variety of styles and colors.

Whether you are furnishing or refurnishing your entire home, or just looking for a replacement piece, we'll be most happy to help you make an unhurried selection. Our stocks are complete and up-to-date — and prices are budget minded. Do come in, soon.

Every live up-to-date town has electric lights. When will Palatine wake up and join in the procession?

While Palatine has been sleeping, Barrington has nearly captured that electric railroad which rightly belongs to us. Don't let her steal it.

Our balmy spring had another bad relapse and Easter morning found the ground covered with two inches of snow.

Palatine village caucus nominated A. S. Olms, mayor; I. M. Kuebler, R. M. Putnam, J. G. Horseman, C. W. Osf, W. R. Comfort and E. Prellberg aldermen; A. G. Smith village clerk.

The funeral of Sumner Whittier born in 1822, was held at Itasca.

Rudolph Wiehrdt of Quentins Corners left March 2 for the state of Washington where he has hired to a farmer for $360 a year. His father expects to buy a 400 acre farm for $4,500.

F. F. Bradley, Arlington Heights, thinks he sees money in the squab business. He has built a large cupola over his tool house where the flock of 80 doves can live happily and produce their young with profit to Bradley.

● SAME OLD STORY

This spring seems to be the same sort of story that we've had for the last few years, a late cold, damp spring. The old farmer's almanac that did so well predicting those winter snow storms isn't going too good on this spring business. They said we'd have a nice warm spring starting with April. Well, April is here, and outside of a few fine days it's been pretty miserable.

A long range government forecaster says April is going to be drier and colder than usual, - that doesn't sound like any early spring. But in spite of it all, the grass is turning green, the spring bulbs are sending up their shoots, some are in bloom and nature is doing her best to keep up with the season in spite of the weather.

And later in the month or early in May will probably come a few hot days when the leaves on trees and shrubs will burst out almost overnight, the fruit trees will burst into bloom and spring will be here in all its glory all in the space of a couple of days.

● EARLY BIRD

Herman Glade is one of the early bird farmers for sure this year. He worked almost around the clock one of those warm early April days and got all of his oats seeded.

The farmers have taken advantage of what good weather there has been to get out in the fields for the spring work, but it does seem that late years they just haven't been able to get at things as early as in former years. We can remember when most of the small grains used to be sown in March or early April and we used to have a neighbor that thought he was way behind if he didn't get some potatoes planted in March.

But times have changed of late years and lots of the fellows have been sowing oats way late in what would normally have been corn planting time. Farming conditions have changed like the rest of the world these last few years it seems.

● THAT CACTUS

Well, that cactus of Mrs. Fred Heims told us what was going to happen. That thing started to bloom and bingo came Friday and Saturday with snow and blizzardy conditions. We wonder if Mrs. Heims has thrown that thing out on its ear as she threatened to do if it was forecasting a snow storm.

Jack Seip says his cactus must have been asleep. At any rate it wasn't on the job with any storm warnings. It was just dormant as if good weather were on the way. John is quite peeved to think that someone else's cactus was on the ball predicting the bad weather and that one which he thinks so much of was asleep at the switch.

● AT LAST

Tom Norman has made many trips down in the Ozarks and was getting to be a familiar figure down in that country, but he never quite got interested enough in property down there to buy any. In fact, he became known to the real estate people down there as "a looker," a fellow who did a lot of peering around but who never bought anything. But this spring the Ozarks got him. He finally fell for the climate, the people, and the glamour of the country.

On a recent trip down into that country with Bill Kehe, Tom saw a bargain that even he could not resist and the old impressario of the Palatine Theater finally listened to the siren call of the Ozarks and bought him a place down there.

Tom says he isn't going to become a native of that country at once as he has other fish to fry for a while yet. He left Palatine last week for Traverse City, Michigan, where he manages the Traverse City drive-in theater during the summer months. Tom says that's a great country also up there amongst the cherries, the lakes and the fine fishing and he asks any of his friends who may be wandering around that country this summer to stop in and see him.

● WAS IT FUN?

Some young fellows had a twisted idea of fun recently when they shot up a lot of new milk cans standing by the road waiting for a farmer to pick them up.

The roads were bad and the farmer had taken his cans of milk out to the highway to keep the heavy milk truck from tearing up his drive and door yard. The milk truck picked up the loaded cans and left empty ones. Before the farmer got around to picking up his empties, some boys in a car drove along the highway and shot the cans full of holes with a rifle.

Now, what sort of fun did they get out of that brainless destruction of property? It's sure going to be tough on them if they get caught.

● FROGS

People who live out in the country near the swamps and marshes report that the frogs are out in great numbers and that the croaking is sweet spring music on the evening air.

There's an old saying that the frogs have to be frozen in three times before warm weather really gets here to stay, so if that is true, let's get three freezes in a hurry so the frogs can be frozen in their three times and then continue their croaking in peace.

● WESTERN TOWN

We overheard a conversation the other day between some folks who were talking about the proposed park and parking area near the depot. One fellow was strong for having some trees and shrubs around and not just bare empty space around the depot and the downtown district.

"What's a place without trees?" he argued, "Look at us now. This town looks like some western town without a tree or a shrub around the railroad station."

To which we add a lusty "Amen." That's just about what our railroad depot and surroundings do look like. A western town, some godforsaken spot out on the prairies of North Dakota or Montana.

When that plan is finally perfected, by all means let's have some beauty about it, some trees and shrubs, and if we know Charley Klopp who is drawing the plans, there will be, for Charley believes in a little beauty and in trees and shrubs.

● BIG SAVING

Getting the tax bills out before March 31 which makes the penalty date May 1st, means a saving of over $110,000.00 to the taxing bodies of Chicago in interest payments on anticipation warrants according to John B. Brenza, county treasurer.

Mr. Brenza made this statement at a recent meeting of the Cook County tax collectors association. With tax bills on time, the warrants will be taken up on time and additional interest saved.

Mr. Brenza said, "This saving applies to Chicago and Cook County taxing units to say nothing of what will be saved in additional interest by the taxing bodies of the thirty townships which you collectors represent."

This is the first year since 1928 that the tax bills have been out on time in the first year of a quadrennial assessment according to Edward J. Brennan, director of central services for Cook County.

It took a lot of hard work to make this record, but it was finally accomplished, a record which the county offices and the local collectors offices can be proud.

● FROM THE WEST

We received a letter from way out west, California, the land of perpetual sunshine, the other day. It was from our old friend Houston De Pue, who is located at Bakersfield, California.

Houston keeps in touch with things back here by reading the old home town paper and he was gracious enough to call our column "one of the most newsy and easy reading columns that any newspaper has the good fortune to publish." (Thanks, Houston, for them kind words.)

Houston sent along a clipping about Death Valley Scotty, a famous old character of the desert and his political predictions which we reprint herewith.

Houston says he knows that Roy LaLonde will be glad to know that the election is in the bag!

Here it is:

Ikenheimer Can't Talk

"That there Ikenheimer is a good general, but he's a renegade and don't know if he's a Democrat or a Republican. He's afraid to come back and talk because he can't say much. Ain't got much to say.

"He's overweight on a muddy track.

"That coon skin guy, Keefuver, I don't know what's on his mind, but if the Democrats take him under their wing, he'll win.

"The Democrats got 20 million votes in the bag, with all the postmasters in the United States and all their squaws and papooses ready to stand in line."

Scotty claimed that the Democrats will win regardless of whether Truman runs again.

Taft Tires Hisself

He said:

"You can't beat a prosperity party, but if the bottom falls out of prosperity, any yaller dog could win (for the Republicans)."

His other opinions:

"Taft wore hisself out before the race. MacArthur scratched.

"As for Warren, he's a swell guy and the best governor California ever had, but they might just as well run me.

"Stassen, he's dead but not buried."

Chamber of Commerce

In last week's publication of the "Palatine Enterprise," there was an article on the front page advising readers of the business conducted at the recent village board meeting in Palatine. A reference was made to the Palatine chamber of commerce in this article, concerning "industry" in Palatine and the thoughts of the chamber of commerce concerning industry.

We feel that this article concerning the chamber was erroneous. Our representative, Mr. G. Hansen, had in his possession letters sent to the Palatine chamber of commerce from the Illinois state chamber of commerce listing various industries, both light and heavy, seeking locations in the Northwest area. This does not necessarily mean they were primarily interested in locating in Palatine. Neither does it mean that the Palatine chamber of commerce has committed themselves, one way or another, on the subject "industry."

An active chamber of commerce is a well-known clearing house for any community and these letters Mr. Hansen turned over to the village board were merely inquiries. We receive many types of letters in a month's time, concerning all types of civic information and our purpose, solely, is to see that these letters, or inquiries, are placed in the hands of the proper authorities.

We, therefore, feel very sorry that before placing such an article concerning a subject of such major importance in this locality, that the chamber of commerce was not first contacted. Then this could have been fully explained and the matter not published such as it was.

Also might we state that at no time has the chamber of commerce of Palatine had any friction, whatsoever, with the village board of Palatine. We have had, and will continue to have, representation at the village board meetings for the sole purpose of the interest of the business men and the community at large. At present we are endeavoring to find ways and means projects to have corrected lighting in the downtown areas, the proper location of business district "signs," for both the Palatine downtown business district and for the highway busines district.

We would appreciate it if, in the future, articles for publication concerning the Palatine chamber of commerce first be cleared through our office.

Not so good neighbor

In answer to a letter "Fair Play," written by a father whose son is accused of larceny. "Agreed," the city of good neighbors has a system of democracy for the privileged class.

I am speaking of the experience we've had this last year. Our home has been in Arlington Heights since 1917. We have lived at several addresses, but since 1935 have occupied the same home we now own. We have always lived by a fair play motto. Never do unto neighbors what one wouldn't do unto oneself, but have doubted that very much now.

Our home is located in the business zone. To the left of us is a service station which has been in business for nearly 20 years. We have never had any complaints because no one interfered with the other. However, last year the present renter decided to have two parking spaces, one on the east side of his station which can take care of five to six cars at one time, the other on the west side of the station. When three cars are parked they must crowd close together, very close to our front yard, otherwise it blocks some of his driveway.

The first occupants of the station had a very attractive fence all around the property. The present tenants neglected to take care of it. Therefore, the fence deteriorated and sections broke away into my front yard destroying a lot of plants. I do not wish to start any argument as I have always kept quiet.

Since the man insists on parking next to my front yard, I have asked him to erect a new fence. He refused to do so until I had to call the police due to his parking cars over the line. He has now erected a cheap fence.

But the argument is this. How can a service station park four trucks outside until 9:30 p. m. when he pays a license to park them in a garage? He also parks other cars all day for which he receives pay. Isn't that called a parking lot?

As a taxpayer I am told the service man has the right to park cars where he chooses even though he only pays a license to run a service station, can park trucks in a garage which he doesn't even have, and can park cars all day close to our front yard and get paid for parking.

Again I say, some people have more privileges than others and get shielded. But a property owner who loves his home and works hard to keep it attractive doesn't seem to stand much of a chance.

A Reader,
Arlington Heights.

Flower show

Now that the silver anniversary Chicago flower show is over, we wish to express our appreciation for the fine, generous publicity you so kindly gave this event.

We had a large attendance from all over the country and have received many compliments on the beauty of the show.

The show was a great success and we feel the fine publicity was a principal contributing factor to its success.

Roselle garbage

My aim is to produce my definition of two words — Clean and Garbage. Clean — Such a beautiful word! A language that reflects the mind and soul. Garbage — Refuse, generally of animal or vegetable matter of a kitchen. Anything that is worthless and offensive.

One can overlook a lot but one fault, which I ask.

Why is it necessary for neighbors to dump their garbage in their back yard, making an attempt only to burn the top off, allowing half burned papers to fly all over neighbors' yards, thus leaving the garbage and refuse accumulate, extending all invitations to rats and other animals?

With summer coming, we dread to think of the consequences.

Wake up Roselle! Check your alleys! There may be more.

I see red,
Roselle.

Liked parade

A raw wind and driving rain failed to quench the fires of enthusiasm which sparked the climactic Grant Matthew's Day rally in Arlington Heights Saturday publicizing the play "State of the Union," to be presented by the Village Theatre players in the Methodist church April 18 and 19.

The old style political rally held in the railroad park was preceded by a parade complete with police escort, band, candidates waving from automobiles and odds and ends of "floats" including tots on toy tractors appealing to the farm bloc, clowns, hula dancer, and a character in a coonskin coat and cap. All that appeared to be lacking was free beer and spectators. In fact when the loud speaker was being tested, the voice inquired: "Is anyone else here?"

After the introduction by Spike MacManus (Doug Anderson) in which those present were advised to vote at the primaries, "and if you don't vote, don't gripe," Robert Hutchinson, who will play the part of candidate Grant Matthews, made his speech as brief as the crowd was small.

The rally ended with loud hurrahs, the flashing of photographers' bulbs, and as the participants scattered for their cars, confetti in the form of wet snow showered down.

Roth plant

It has been projected into this subject that I attempted to bring an industrial plant into Park Ridge, and therefore I should not object to industry begin in Arlington Heights. I do object to industry on the scale proposed being located so close to my home, and for the very same reasons submitted by the residents of Park Ridge.

At the public hearing before the Zoning Board and later the Council some 300 residents who lived mainly within a mile or so of the proposed plant site on the outskirts of Park Ridge, attended the meeting and vehemently protested. Their objections were that they had been told the vicinity of their homes would be immune from the encroachment of industry on a large scale with its heavy increase of traffic and inroads of low priced homes.

The business men of the town spoke openly of their desire to have the plant accepted because it would help them and decrease the tax burden. The mayor of Park Ridge and some of the councilmen supported this tax reduction contention.

The factory whom I represented did not present an elaborate program such as we have witnessed in Arlington Heights. We did not attempt in any way to influence the thinking or decision of the councilmen. We made a straight forward application for re-zoning and stated publicly that if the residents of Park Ridge did not want our plant in their town we would not attempt to force our way in.

When the chips were down the councilmen of Park Ridge did not listen favorably to our appeal, they did not succumb to the commercial persuasion, but they did listen to the objections of about 300 residents who would have their most important investment, their homes, adversely affected by permitting a factory building to arise in their midst, and they voted it down.

Compare this minority with the 2,000 signed objectors of Arlington Heights and draw your own conclusions as to reasoning of our councilmen who seem to favor this proposal.

Why? Can any authority prove the possibility of relief in the taxes? Have you or I any reason to believe that the introduction of this plant or any other similar project will result in a reduction in taxes under our political system of tax levy? Would it not be short of phenomenal to find a political body reducing taxes for any reason whatsoever.

Instead is it not an ever recurring process of trying to raise more taxes to meet the increased cost of government and would not the taxes from this factory be quickly and thoroughly absorbed in this ever upward cost of government, be it local, state or federal?

The only factor that will ever stop the tax increase is a catastrophe in the form of a depression when the political taxing bodies suddenly come face to face with the stern reality that the people simply cannot pay, and property goes tax delinquent.

As to the businessmen's appeal, this is a legitimate cause, if I were a local businessman I would undoubtedly be in favor of more factories with possibilities of more business for the butcher, grocer and shoe store. But, would I be priviledged to expect this at a sacrifice to a good portion, if not a majority of the present residents. Would there not be danger of losing old established business, for the uncertainties of new and untried business? Would I not cause my present customers some loss in value of their homes and other inconveniences?

It has also been stated by some that this new plant will raise the wage level of existing factories in Arlington Heights. So, we bring the mountain to Mohammed. Why don't those who want more wages, more business and more activity than our peaceful rural town affords move as Mohammed, to the mountain and travel or transfer to Des Plaines or Chicago where these things they desire prevail in abundance.

C. P. Cushway,
Arlington Heights.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Having never been to the Kungsholm, I had no idea what a treat was in store for me when Ma (my dear "second" Mother) asked me to join her there for luncheon and the "opera." At the appointed time Wednesday, I was walking through the impressive entrance and up the steps into the waiting room of this unusual restaurant and theatre. A glance about the room told me that Ma had not yet arrived. I sat down in one of the matching yellow leather chairs, and (attempting to appear nonchalant, but probably looking aw estruck!) took in everything from the plush carpeting to the beautiful, slate blue walls with their heavy, carved gold wall lights and several rich oil portraits — among which the King of Denmark commanded a prominent position.

A little later, my curiosity — getting completely out of hand — led me up the wide, luxurious, circular stairway for a peek into the rooms on the second floor. The Swedish Room, The Lauritz Melchior, The Opera Terrace, all were attractively decorated and filled with gay luncheon guests. I noticed particularly the corner cupboards containing lovely pieces of clear blue and white Royal Copenhagen porcelain.

BY THE TIME I reached the first floor again Ma had arrived, and we were shown to our table in a room on this floor. In the center was a long smorgasbord table, lighted by two massive candelabra, and laden with many different Scandinavian foods (I decided instantly to go off my diet for the day!) Although the menu said that the proper way to enjoy the smorgasbord was to have first the fish foods, then the hot meat dishes, and last the fruit salads and cheese, it was difficult to distinguish one sauce covered food from another so I decided to "sample" practically all the intriguing dishes on my first "round." A light, delicious Danish rum pudding and a couple of cups of coffee (like nothing I ever made at home) completed the luncheon, and we were ready to go into the Miniature Grand Opera Theatre.

This little theatre is beyond any expectation one could have. Fashioned after Copenhagen's Royal Theatre, it is a creation in deep ruby red, white, gold and crystal that fairly sparkles like a brilliant jewel. The unexpected grandeur of it all took my breath away, and it was a while before I could settle down and read the program for the afternoon. We were to see Mr. Chramer's puppets perform "Madame Butterfly." You see, Peg, the music is all played by records, and the thirteen inch puppets, elaborately costumed, are operated electrically beneath the stage and move on tracks — gesturing with their arms, nodding their heads, and performing such feats as turning around, kneeling, and sitting.

THE LIGHTS of the diamond-like crystal chandelier dimmed and from the pit just below the stage arose the fifty-two piece puppet orchestra, complete with "Tosci" the conductor, each member playing his instrument in perfect time to the "Star Spangled Banner."

At last the soft, velvet curtains parted and there before us was the charming Japanese setting for the first act of "Madame Butterfly."

By the time the "opera" was over, I felt that I had not often been so moved by anything. Now that I can reflect on the afternoon, I know that it was no one thing that touched and inspired me, but rather the witnessing of so much creativeness. First, Puccini's exceptionally beautiful music — sometimes soaring on a flight of almost unbearable poignancy, and then again, as gay and delicate as a Japanese garden, or like a lotus blossom — wistful — fragile. And secondly, a man's dream and creation of a miniature theatre and stage and expertly manipulated puppets whose performance could be so convincing.

I think I know now the meaning of the Danish inscription over the procenium arch: "Ej Blot Til Lyst" — "Not Only For Amusement."

My love,
Patty.

Can You Tell Me...

Why Enamel Peels From Panel Edges of Doors?

The enclosed paint samples are part of the enamel which is peeling from the edges of the panels of interior doors. There is a bare space around these edges up to 1/16 of an inch. The materials used were a primer of undercoater, ½ undercoater and ½ enamel and then one coat of ¼ undercoater and ¾ enamel. These panels seem to be shrinking.

If there is any indication of shrinkage of the wood on the new doors about which you write, the shrinking is undoubtedly causing the enamel to chip off. We can think of no other cause. Priming with an undercoater, then applying a coat of half undercoater and half enamel and finishing with a coat composed of ¼ undercoater and ¾ enamel is considered good practice.

May we help solve your decorating problems?

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The other day a fellow said to me, "You know, I feel all washed up! All of my worries, my divorce and my financial trouble which I had years ago are on my mind, and I can't get them off!"

I suppose if I had his troubles, I would have trouble forgetting them, too. It is so easy to tell the other fellow he shouldn't cry over spilt milk, but to keep from it yourself in times of trouble is a real problem.

There are many things that can happen to us through life. Nearly all of us have our "scars that will not wash away." We have to learn to live with them, and keep them from landing us in the insane asylum or making us bitter and hateful while at the same time we pity ourselves woefully.

We all have the habit of pitying ourselves, going over and over our misfortunes long after they are past. I know from experience that most of the problems which have bothered me were overcome forever simply by thinking of myself in an impersonal manner, comparing my troubles with those of other people, and coming at last to realize that my misfortunes are no worse than those of other people, and finally asking myself in what ways I am more deserving of goodness and mercy "all the days of my life," and the only reason I have ever been able to find is that my misfortunes are awful only because they happened to me. It is a very silly thing for me to moan about my troubles, because the only reason I moan is that they happened to me. That is all, there is no reasoning involved, no sense of relevancy, simply that they happened to me!

Then I begin laughing at myself after a while, and what a selfish, simple, childlike person I am. And if a fellow can always keep that in mind, that the only reason he feels so badly is that something has happened to him, and how little it would concern him if it happened to someone else who would suffer just as much as he did, the hard bumps are much easier to bear, and he will not be nearly so hard to live with.

And when a thing his happened, there are two choices: try to make the best of the situation and salvage what one can from the wreck, or if that is impossible, be resigned. After 49 years of living, I know now that I am neither so wonderful as I thought, nor so perfect as to deserve missing all of the hard knocks in life, or getting all of the good breaks.

Record hay crop

Illinois farmers harvested 4,602,000 tons of hay from 2,797,000 acres in 1950. The nation's hay crop totaled nearly 107 million tons, the third largest crop in the 35 years on record. The number of acres cut was close to 76 million.

The 1951 hay crop is the largest in history. Acreage planted was more than 800,000 acres above the bumper 1950 crop.

Grape colaspis may be corn threat

Grape colaspis, a corn insect which has had its ups and downs in Illinois recently, may cause trouble again this year, according to H. B. Petty, entomologist at the Illinois college of agriculture and Illinois natural history survey.

Normally the grape colaspis is found only in corn fields where clover or soybeans grew the year before. In those cases the insect overwinters in the soil as a small grub which feeds on the corn roots.

Petty says damage from the insect is almost impossible to detect until the corn is at least 4 to 8 inches high, and sometimes not until it has reached 2 feet. The sign of grape colaspis damage is purple streaking on the lower leaves of the corn — also typical of a phosphate deficiency.

Petty recommends that these measures be taken to help control the pest:

Plow red clover, lespedeza and redtop as early as possible this spring. Keep down weed growth by disking and checking fertility. Delay planting and add a starter fertilizer high in phosphate content.

Dutch elm ills appear in state

As if phloem necrosis, a disease that is killing American elm trees in Illinois, weren't enough to worry about, Dutch elm disease has also crossed the eastern boundary into the state.

J. N. Spaeth, head of the forestry department at the Illinois college of agriculture, reports that at least 11 new cases of Dutch elm disease were located in Illinois in 1951. Five of the trees were in Douglas county, four in Champaign county and one each in Lawrence and Coles counties.

So far this disease isn't serious in Illinois. But foresters are anxious to have all cases of Dutch elm disease reported so that they can check its progress and take adequate control measures. First case appeared at Charleston, Coles county, in 1950 after the disease had been found in Indiana for several years.

NORMAL ELMS lose their leaves early, so it won't do any good to check elms for the disease until early spring. Watch for sudden wilting and drying of the leaves, and especially for dead leaves on one or more branches that do not seem to have been injured mechanically.

You won't be able to tell what disease your elm tree may have. Cut several sections 6 to 10 inches long and from pencil size to 1 inch in diameter from an affected branch which is not completely dead but is dying. Send these sections to the state natural history survey, Urbana. Scientists there will test the samples for disease and recommend necessary action.

BEST PROTECTION from Dutch elm disease is to destroy infected trees, Spaeth says. You can spray your valuable elms with DDT to help protect them. Dutch elm, as well as phloem necrosis, is spread by insects that fly from diseased trees to healthy ones. Spraying the trunk branches and twigs with DDT before the trees leaf out in the spring helps to destroy the insect pests before they can transmit the disease.

Stock man warns of hoof and mouth disease

Lifting the ban on importation of Mexican cattle into the U.S. on September 1, provided no more outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease are discovered in Mexico prior to that date as announced by USDA could result in disaster for America's live stock industry, P. O. Wilson, secretary-manager of national live stock producers association, writes in an editorial.

"Since the Mexican embargo became effective in 1946, the U.S. has spent over $125 million in attempts to eradicate the disease in Mexico. There is no assurance that complete eradication has been effected. With the elimination of the vaccination phase of the program, the main emphasis has now shifted to inspection. Can we be sure that the 2,000-man anti-aftosa commission has covered every nook and cranny of the mountains and valleys of Mexico?," asks Mr. Wilson.

"Should the disease pierce our border defenses some authorities have estimated it would cost $10 million a week to fight it. If a U. S. outbreak got out of control, meat, milk, leather, wool and medicinal products of animal origin might be reduced by 25%."

Stanchion Barns Being Changed Into New Milking Parlor Setups

Top picture shows interior view of milking parlor and loafing barn. Directly above, farmer's son watches milk enter can through clear plastic pipe from milk house.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Milking parlor-loafing barn plans can be as elaborate as farmers desire. An increasing number of such setups are "conversion" projects—old dairy barns with remodeled interiors. One of the most successful is located in Ohio and was built at a cost of $949, exclusive of equipment and 1,061 hours of on-the-farm labor. Here is a brief description of it:

The old stanchion dairy barn became the loafing area, and a new concrete block structure added to house the milking parlor and milk room. Two cement ramps are located in the "parlor." Cows enter the milking parlor from the loafing barn—two at a time—and walk up the ramps to be milked. Feed boxes are placed on the ramps facing the cows. When milking operations are over the boxes are moved back on sliding partitions so that cows can leave the ramps and return to the barn. A rope is suggested to separate the milked cows from the unmilked cows in the loafing area.

One of the new combine milkers is used. Thus milk is pumped directly from the cow into cans in the milk room automatically. Cans, connected in series, are filled one after the other, the loader mechanism taking care that each is filled to the proper level. After being filled, the cans are placed in the cooler.

In this particular setup, the sheltered side of the barn is left open most of the winter so that cows are free to wander outside into a feed lot.

Domestic feed materials do not cause anthrax

Recent outbreaks of anthrax among hogs in some of the midwestern states have caused alarm in feeding circles. While anthrax is not unknown in the United States, certain peculiarities of the present outbreaks are rather puzzling in that they do not follow the pattern generally expected of anthrax disease in animals.

A meeting of the United States livestock sanitary association in Washington March 27 brought out many details of the current outbreaks that heretofore had been for the most part in the rumor stage, and it clarified the situation regarding the use of bone meal, meat scrap and tankage.

CERTAIN AREAS of the country have outbreaks of anthrax almost every year, but they usually occur in cattle and horses during the hot summer months. Swine generally have been considered to be rather resistant to the disease. Now we have the disease in swine, and it has occured in the winter months, which points to a source of infection different from that usually encountered.

Information was brought out at the Washington meeting to show that;

1. Tankage, meat scrap and bone meal produced entirely from domestic materials in this country has not been implicated in outbreak of anthrax disease.

2. The temperatures used for processing tankage, meat scrap and bone meal in this country are sufficient to make the products entirely safe from anthrax disease.

3. IMPORTED, foreign bone meal has been found to contain anthrax spores.

4. Outbreaks of anthrax in swine, in almost every case, have been traced to the use of imported bone meal in the feed.

Resolutions were passed at the Washington meeting recommending that adequate safeguards be established over material brought into this country to protect against the introduction of animal diseases in the future.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Protect That Window!

HERE IS a simple way to protect the glass window on your coal bin against breakage when a delivery is made. Most such windows are hung with strap hinges. File off the large heads of the hinge pins and knock the pins out with a punch or nail, according to advice given by Family Handyman. Replace the pins with common nails, as illustrated.

The exchange of the pins for the nails will enable you to remove the window before the coal delivery is made. Later, of course, it may easily be replaced.

Build combination hog house on farm

A combination hog house was recommended today for Illinois swine raisers who need more shelter for sows and baby pigs during spring farrowing season.

Farm buildings specialist H. L. Wakeland, in the Illinois College of Agriculture, says the movable building can serve as a central farrowing house with six pens now at spring farrowing time, and for summer farrowing. Later this spring, summer and fall it can serve as a unit house for shade and shelter.

The combination hog house is shown in Plan 511, available for 30 cents from the College of Agriculture, Urbana.

Each side, 8 by 20 feet in size, has a wide roof overhang which covers a central alleyway when the two halves are pulled together to face each other. With a removable 2-inch wood floor, you have most of the labor-saving features of a central house.

Wakeland thinks two men could build both halves in only two days, maybe less. Even if you buy the lumber and materials, it should cost only about $400 for both units, and possibly less. Native farm woodlot lumber should cost only about half as much.

Tell new way to save forage

A new way to save hard-to-cure forage is rapidly coming into use by farmers in the midwest.

The method consists of chopping hay in the field with sickle-bar or pick-up cutters, and making it into stack silage, reports Capper's Farmer. This process of ensiling forage cuts labor costs, gets feed into storage quickly, and lessens wet weather risks.

"Stack storage first was tried 4 or 5 years ago by farmers who had feed left when their tower silos were full. They were surprised that losses were so small," says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. "Most of those who use stack silos believe their losses are 10 per cent or less. Some research men say hay-curing losses can run to 20 or 30 per cent when weather is damp and cool.

"THERE ARE 2 WAYS to make stack silage. An Iowa steer feeder has used both. In 1950 he set up a tall gin pole and blew 300 tons into a stack. The forage kept well, and made fine feed, but the blower slowed the job. Last summer he chopped 900 tons into big trucks that dumped their loads on a huge rick 20 feet wide at the base. The trucks drove over the top of the stack until it reached a height of 15 feet. It was leveled by a small tractor, equipped with a dozer blade. Spoilage measured 4 to 6 inches on the stack sides; up to 10 inches on the top.

"Seven Wisconsin men took stack samples to a farm clinic, where many types of roughage were rated for feeding value by men from the college of agriculture. Five samples graded excellent to good. The sixth had gone into the stack too dry and the seventh too wet to get top rating.

"Stack silos can be put where they are handiest. Sites may be moved with the crop rotation. One feeder stacks silage in his hay meadow, and moves cattle to the field to eat it."

A clean farm is safer farm

For safety's sake. extend spring housecleaning to your whole farmstead, says farm adviser Carl F. Mees.

Rural safety specialists at the University of Illinois college of agriculture reports that tools, bags of feed, buckets and just common trash are responsible for hospitalizing one out of every five farm accident victims.

Not only that! Studies from the Illinois rural safety council show that, next to poor judgment, disorder is the largest single cause of injuries.

INSIDE AND OUT, get rid of trash, paper, scattered boxes and boards, rags and rubbish. They're serious fire hazards and ideal breeding places for rats.

Tear down and dispose of broken, wobbly steps which can cripple someone for life.

Remove old, tottery buildings on your farmstead. In the first place, they certainly don't add to the beauty of your farm. Besides that, they're often the cause of serious injuries.

Throw out unmarked bottles of poison, and don't take chances even on clearly marked poisons. Be absolutely sure they're out of the reach of your children and animals.

Wilson Community

Arlington Knolls subdivision is recommending Richard Hurlburt as a candidate for nomination to the school board. Nominations will be made at a half hour caucus from 4:30 to 5 p. m. April 12 at the schoolhouse and the polls will be open from 5 to 9 p. m. These new hours were announced at the last board meeting.

Mr. Hurlburt and his family moved here from Euclid, Ohio, two years ago, and they live on the corner of Clarence and Jane sts. in Arlington Heights Gardens. Three of the Hurlburt children will be in the Wilson school next fall. Mr. Hurburt is very interested in education and is also taking an active part in the Cub Scout troop. He is employed in the sales department of the Oliver Corporation in Chicago.

The real estate tax bills just received indicate that the Wilson school tax rate has been reduced from $1 to 92.8 cents which demonstrates careful handling and efficiency on the part of the school board. Out of 13 neighborhood elementary school districts listed in a folder compiled by William Spears of Prospect heights, only three districts were able to reduce the tax rate, and 10 had an increase.

Robert Parson has been hired by the school board as principal of the school and teacher of the upper grades beginning next September. Mr. Parson is from Evanston.

A spelling contest was held at the Prospect Heights school last week in which three schools were represented, Prospect Hts., Wheeling and Wilson. There were two entries from each school and Hazel Rickert placed second, and Bill Coates, fourth.

Open house will be held at the school April 18 from 7 to 9 p. m. Mrs. Richard Hurlburt is chairman of the project, and refreshments will be served by the retiring officers of the PTA. The public is invited.

New officers elected last Friday at the PTA meeting are as follows: Mrs. William Thompson, president; Eddie Miller, vice-president; Mrs. G. Flenner, secretary; J. Rice, treasurer.

The next executive meeting of the PTA will be held April 24 at the home of Mrs. Robert Huebner.

Both Eddie Natzke and Karen best are confined to their homes with the measles.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Best, who celebrated their eleventh wedding anniversary April 7.

A petition is being circulated by Judge Harvey Adams in the Hillside subdivision to permit the Alpha Engineer and Machine Works, Inc., to erect an industrial building on farm land immediately west of the Fred Meier residence on Palatine rd., near Wilke rd. Ninety per cent of their work consists of designing and drafting, and the remainder of making models of industrial mechanisms. They employ a personnel of approximately 100. This would be a one story building about 180 feet front by 60 feet deep, constructed of lannon stone, roman brick and glass block of modern design, set back approximately 200 feet from the road, which area would be landscaped with parking space in the rear of the building. The plans call for no chimneys or smoke stacks.

The county doctor and nurse will be at Wilson school April 23 at 8:30 a.m. to give medical examinations to the first, fourth and seventh grade students. Registrations for children entering first grade next September will also be accepted at this time and physical examinations will be given.

Pine Gate Highlands

Association news

It was a good meeting last Friday night in spite of the competition from PTA meetings. It looks like the competion will continue as two Pinegate women were elected officers in Wilson school PTA, Mrs. Florence Thompson, president, and Mrs. Margaret Flenner, secretary. Congratulations and good luck.

Eino Seppala reported contact with Barney Runge on ditches and drainage and property owners requiring drains on or between their lots are asked to get together in groups and prepare signed permission for him to enter upon their property for necessary ditching and draining.

Mike Mieszanek reported that as soon as Commissioner Busse returns from his vacation he expects action on the stop light petition. In the meantime the association has received and forwarded supporting letters from Mrs. R. Huebner and the executive board of Wilson school PTA and A. C. Schroeder, president of Wilson school board.

Robert Durben reported on scouting activities and thanked all who assisted in the recent paper, rags and scrap "pick-up" drive. It was the first one in the community and residents are asked to save their paper, etc., for the next one, which will be in the near future.

There have been some grass fires in the community recently, and the article on this subject that appeared in the April 3 issue of this paper was read to bring the dangers of grass fires forcibly to the attention of all in this community.

Personal notes

A good representation from Pinegate Highlands enjoyed the fashion show April 3 at the high school given by St. Peter Lutheran Mothers' club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rapp attended a dance given by the Eastwood Association of Arlington Heights last Saturday night at the Mount Prospect Country club.

MRS. JOS. REMSING — Ph. VAnderbilt 4-8483

Forest River

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Suhren celebrated their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary March 31. All day Monday Gale was receiving surprises of all kinds, the nicest of these was a beautiful flower plant from her secret pal. Ed came home with a corsage for her and took her out for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jule Miske celebrated their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary Friday.

Robert Martens was confirmed in the Lutheran faith on Palm Sunday. Due to his sister Lynn being quarantined with measles, there could be no celebration.

The volunteer firemen of Forest River have had their share of brush fires in the section. People who intend to burn brush and rubbish should be sure they have some fire fighting equipment such as a rake, bucket of water and a good size paddle, and the wind should be considered. Also for rubbish, a wire container can be bought for very little at any hardware store.

The Men's groups are sponsoring a scrap drive for the benefit of the building program. Anyone who has any waste metals etc. should bring it to the club house property. A spot has been marked on the corners of Hill and Lee sts. If there should be a good size load, a phone call to the custodian, J. Brewer, at VAnderbilt 4-3837, and he will refer the problem to the proper persons for a pick-up.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois

Anyone who saves the taxpayer money these days deserves a pat on the back. But there's a mighty big difference between actual savings to the taxpayers through cutting the fat out of the federal budget and phony savings through pretended cuts that don't touch the fat at all.

For example, the house appropriations committee apparently cut the department of labor—federal security agency appropriation by some 197 million dollars, more than 10% of the budget estimates. But there's a catch to it. Of the 197 million dollar cut, 140 million represents a reduction in appropriations for public assistance grants to the states. The federal government is committed by law to matching whatever amounts are paid out by the states. If some or all of this 140 million dollars is needed later to meet this commitment, it's got to be paid through a supplemental appropriation. If it isn't needed, it couldn't be spent whether congress cut the appropriation or not. So 140 million of this 197 million dollar reduction is strictly phony.

THE SAME bill carries a sizable chunk of tax money for grants to states for hospital construction. The president's budget request for this program totaled $154.7 million, including $75 million for new projects and $79.7 million to liquidate contract authority previously granted. The house committee cut $20 million from this part of the bill. The catch? Instead of cutting from the amount scheduled for new projects, the committee cut from money already committed.

This is like a householder including in his budget an item for a new television set while cutting down on the money in his budget for his federal income tax, which he must pay. The $20 million must be paid when it is required to liquidate the contracts. If the committee had made its cut in the $75 million of new spending, there would have been a real saving.

For every dollar of actual cuts that it makes the house appropriations committee is entitled to full support from back home. But phony cuts, which won't balance the budget, check inflation or save the taxpayers a dime, will backfire by creating skepticism instead of support back home.

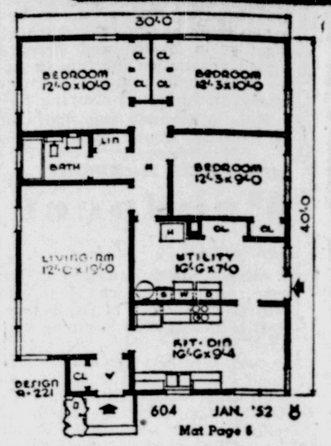

ACTUALLY, the solution to the budget problem is simple. The federal income is expected to be 71 billion dollars next fiscal year. Congress isn't going to raise taxes further this year, and shouldn't. The proposed 84½ billion dollar budget can only be balanced therefore by cutting proposed spending down to the 71 billion dollar level. Congress and congressional committees can't possibly do this job. They haven't the time, the tools or the knowledge to cope with a problem of this magnitude or complexity. The president, through the budget bureau and other staff, has the tools and the knowledge.

Can congress force the president to do the job? It can, by passage of the Coudert resolution (HJR 371), in the house committee on expenditures in the executive departments. This Coudert resolution will limit spending for the next fiscal year to 71 billion dollars, the amount of estimated income, and will force the president and the government to live within its income.

U.S. jets outscore MiG's; 12 new planes better

U. S. aircraft have shot down five MiG-15's for every one air force jet destroyed in air-to-air combat in Korea. Latest figures (as of February 29) reveal that the Reds have lost 223 Russian-built MiGs, while only 43 USAF jets have been destroyed by Chinese Communist planes.

Superiority of the American jets in air-to-air combat has been attributed to their superior firepower, better gunsights and highly-trained pilots. These advantages, plus the fact that the U. S. planes have greater range and more durability, have more than offset the MiG's speed and high rate of climb over 25,000 feet.

At least 12 new U. S. fighters in, or approaching, production are expected to outperform the MiG in all categories while sacrificing none of the better features in current American military aircraft.

About Your Health

Many persons are confused by the terms neurology and psychiatry and yet in understanding the definitions a great distinction is noted between the two fields of medicine.

Neurology covers the physical diseases that affect the entire nervous system which includes the brain, its connecting spinal cord, located in the spine itself, and the many nerves extending from the spinal cord to various parts of the body.

Psychiatry deals with the emotional or mental disturbances of the mind, stirred up in the brain and related to the mind itself through thoughts, attitudes and behavior patterns.

Thus the nervous system is a complex structure of wiring that may be compared to a telephone system. The brain is the central office where all communications are received and sent. In other words, if we touch something, see an object, whether unconsciously or deliberately, a group of nerves goes into action on a message from the brain.

Certain sections of the brain are charged with different responsibilities, so that actually to reach for the object a group of nerves directs the muscles necessary to bring up the arm and hand to pick up the object. In the same manner, your eyes notice a person or an object falling toward you. They in turn send the message to the central office in the brain. Again the relay is started, the nerves to the muscles and up come the arms to ward off the falling object.

WHEN AN INFECTION, injury, disease or growth affects any part of the nervous system, one result is noticed and that is an interference in the telephone system, causing a blocking in the service. Thus if a certain part of the brain is affected, the result may be hemiplegia or paralysis of one side of the body. If, however, another part of the brain is affected, or a part of the connecting link—the spinal cord—the person may lose the use of both legs, a condition known as paraplegia. If the back part of the brain is affected, called the cerebellum, a condition develops known as ataxia and is evidenced by lack of muscular coordination. The victim will walk in a weaving fashion, much like a person does who is intoxicated.

These are some conditions that occur when the brain is affected. In the same manner when the nerves or wiring system are attacked, again interference in the telephone service is noted. If one nerve is affected, we may have neuritis, or if many nerves are involved, the result may be multiple or polyneuritis.

Nutritional deficiencies may be the cause, or the taking of medicines either advertised or perhaps recommended by a friend. Thus self-diagnosis or self-medication may lead to the development of some form of neuritis, which will affect the telephone wires in various parts of the body. As a result, the individual may lose the use of his hands or feet, known as wrist and foot drop, respectively.

Chicago Knox club to dine April 17

Many Knox college alumni in this area have made reservations for the Chicago Knox club cocktail party and dinner to be held at the Midland Hotel, 172 W. Adams st., Chicago, the evening of April 17, according to William L. Collins of Evanston, club president.

Guest of honor will be Prof. Alfred W. Newcombe, now teaching history to second-generation students, and one of the most popular teachers on the Knox campus.

Look, it's human

Natal, the monkey man, will be one of the thrills in the giant Cole Brothers Circus which opens at the Chicago Stadium April 18. Natal walks up the side of buildings and even on the ceiling as though he were not only a monkey but a fly. The world famous Cole show will run from April 18 through May 4 with two performances daily.

Social Security for women workers

Women now 65 years of age, having worked as little as a year and one half under social security since 1937, are eligible for monthly social security benefit payments. They must file an application and be retired or have monthly earnings of not more than $50 under social security.

Many wives meet these qualifications but are not filing application for the payments. These wives erroneously believe that the husband must be getting social security retirement payments before the wife can file her application.

Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the social security office at 5306 W. Lawrence ave., Chicago, points out that each worker qualifies on his own record of employment regardless of sex or marital status.

True, a wife who has never worked under social security cannot draw benefits as a wife until her husband retires. If, however, she qualifies on her own record, her husband's age or retirement status will not affect payments for which she has qualified. She should file her own application as a worker rather than wait until she can draw wife's payments.

Near-residents of forest preserves to receive "fire" calls

More than 3,500 suburbanites who live close to the forest preserves may expect a visit any time within the next two months from a senior forester, it was announced last week by Noel Wysong, chief forester of the forest preserve district.

Senior Forester Joseph Pesek has started out on a round of calls to people who live near the forest preserves. He will distribute fire cards to them, which will give them the proper numbers to call if they see a fire in or near a forest preserve district.

Pesek will also spend a few minutes at each house explaining the damages that occurs in forest fires, such as the destruction of small animals, wild flowers, trees and shrubs.

Pesek will start out on his calls at 9:00 or 9:30 in the morning and will continue the visits until six in the evening.

U. of Illinois Symphony in Chicago

The University of Illinois symphony will present a special concert at Orchestra Hall under the baton of Rafael Kubelik, musical director and conductor of the Chicago symphony orchestra, Saturday evening, April 19.

This will be the first time this orchestra, recognized as one of the outstanding non-professional musical organizations in America, will be heard in Chicago.

It is a full-scale symphony with 100 instruments. Professor Bernard Goodman is musical director.

The program for the Orchestra Hall concert is the one which Kubelik conducted Saturday, March 29, at the university's Urbana auditorium as one of the highlights of the University of Illinois festival of contemporary arts.

The 61st season of the Chicago symphony orchestra comes to a close at the mid-week subscription concerts this week in Orchestra Hall with performances of the great Beethoven Ninth (Choral) Symphony, under the baton of Rafael Kubelik.

For these closing concerts Thursday evening and Friday afternoon, April 17 and 18, Kubelik has also programmed the Bach Concerto No. 6.

Martha Lipton, metropolitan opera mezzo-soprano will make her first appearance with the Chicago symphony orchestra as one of the soloists in the Beethoven work. The other soloists are Frances Yeend, soprano, Eugene Conley, tenor, and Hans Hotter, bass-baritone, who have previously scored successes at Orchestra Hall. The well-known Apollo Musical Club of 200 voices will perform the choral portions.

All taxes except cigs drop during March

State Treasurer William G. Stratton reported today that March receipts from the state's major source of revenue, the retailers' occupation tax, dropped $1,109,870 from the previous month.

The $15,423,408 received last month was also off some $1,783,682 from March, 1951.

Similar drops were recorded in the motor fuel tax, down to $6,864,260 for Maroh as compared with $7,031,718 in February, and motor vehicle licenses, totaling $9,902,662 as compared with $12,089,881 in the previous month.

Cigaret taxes, however, showed an increase, from $1,364,186 in February to $3,066,321 for March.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Are showers for prospective bridegrooms appropriate?

A. They are growing in popularity, although mostly humorous in character. Usually they consist of socks too gaudy to wear, "dainty" handkerchiefs, budget books, ball-and-chain, and the like. Of course, the shower of useful gifts is also appropriate — such as a book shower, smoking necessities shower, or workshop-tool shower.

Q. I've been told it is permissible to leave the soup spoon in the soup bowl. Is this correct?

A. If the plate on which the bowl rests is wide, it is better to lay the spoon on it. If very narrow, however, it is all right to leave the spoon in the bowl.

Q. Is it necessary that a pallbearer at a funeral wear a black suit?

A. No; any dark business suit is appropriate.

Q. How should one take the olive stone from the mouth?

A. It should be removed from the mouth with the thumb and forefinger, and laid on the plate. Never be guilty of ejecting it from the mouth directly to the plate, or into the palm of the hand!

Q. If several members of a family go together to buy a wedding gift, is it all right for the bride to write a note of thanks to just one of them and ask her to thank the other members of the family?

A. No; thte bride must write a separate note of thanks to each person.

Q. Is it correct to have a monogram engraved on the envelope of social stationery?

A. No; the monogram should be engraved only on the note paper.

Q. When you are talking with someone whose name you cannot remember readily, and another friend joins you, should you attempt an introduction?

A. It is better to attempt an introduction than to leave two persons standing awkwardly staring at each other. Here you can say, "I am very sorry, but for the moment I cannot recall your name."

Q. What is the correct way to address a letter to a friend whose husband has recently passed away?

A. The same as always — "Mrs Frank J. Wilson."

Q. What is the proper way to eat an apple at the table?

A. Cut the apple into quarters, then peel it. The pieces are then conveyed to the mouth with the fingers.

Q. What is customary to use as a centerpiece for the wedding breakfast table?

A. The wedding cake.
